Russian Attack From Asia Not Likely, MacArthur Declares At Senate Hearing

Front Quiet Except For Skirmishes

Reds Getting Set For New Drives; Yanks Lose 2 Jets

TOKYO, May 3—(AP)—Sharp skirmishes broke the quiet of the Korean front today as United Nations patrols probed Red forces building up for new offensives.

The fights were fierce, but small scale.

Two U. S. F-80 Shooting Star jets were knocked down today by enemy fire in Korea.

The Air Force said both pilots were presumed killed.

Four ground clashes involved Allied tanks rumbling north from Seoul. An armored column drove back a Chinese regiment after a two hour skirmish northeast of Seoul, shooting it out with Red infantrymen.

A third tank column opened its guns on Reds northwest of Seoul.

To the east, in the Pukhan river bend, tanks won a brief clash with Communist troops.

On the central front Allied ground troops fought a six hour skirmish with 150 Reds dug in atop a hill. Communists kept the hill. But an estimated two thirds of them were killed.

This fight was southeast of Chunchon, about 45 miles east of Seoul. Allied warplanes strafed Communists caught in the same area and to the northeast.

Most planes flew north to blast the Red buildup for a new assault along the western and central fronts.

Action up to dusk Thursday was light—as on the preceding day, one of the quietest of the war. The Eighth Army estimated Red casualties Wednesday at 435. Air strikes accounted for about that many more. The figures were unusually low.

Lull Boosts Morale

Ground troops took advantage of the break to swim, play and rest.

"This lull has done wonders for our morale," one front line officer said.

But the Reds were busy—out of range of Allied artillery. Intelligence officers reported three Communist divisions were preparing to strike at Seoul from the northwest. Other forces were building up in the hills around Hwachon reservoir, north of the central Korean plain.

The buildups emphasized the warning of Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the Eighth Army, that the Reds were capable of striking another heavy blow at U N forces and probably were preparing one.

The wild hilly country north of Seoul and to the east, leading from the Hwachon area to the central plains, offers the Reds their favorite type of battleground.

They may come tumbling down from these ridges within 72 hours, a week or a month. Nobody knows for sure — except their leaders.

The hills afford natural cover, and make it easier to infiltrate at night. On the plains, U.N. guns and planes rock them back on their heels.

They lost more than 75,000 men in casualties of the 300,000 used in their vaunted spring offensive started April 22. They have another 300,000 available. These have not yet been thrown into the fight.

Nor have the Reds used 3,000 planes they are reported to have available.

Their night fighters came out for the first time Wednesday. Three Communist planes attacked a U S B-26 bomber as it dropped flares for night raiding aircraft. The B-26 crew said their plane wasn't hit but they may have scored on one of the Red planes.

The U N air show continued at near record levels around the clock. More than 1,000 strikes were made Wednesday, many of them through curtains of anti-aircraft fire.

May File Removal Complaints

Senate Votes Lausche Power To Curb Erring Sheriffs and Prosecutors

COLUMBUS, O., May 3—(AP)—Two of three proposed laws to deal with crime and gambling took long strides forward yesterday in the Ohio legislature.

The Senate completed legislative action on a bill to permit the governor to file removal complaints against erring sheriffs and prosecutors. The bill now goes to Gov. Frank J. Lausche—to become law 90 days after his signature.

The house judiciary committee recommended passage of a bill to permit padlocking of gambling establishments as common nuisances.

But, the third bill in the triumvirate got caught in the logjam of the Senate trying to wind up the session as quickly as possible.

It was the House-approved measure to make possession, display or transportation of a slot machine a felony. The Senate judiciary committee, which had planned to report the bill to the Senate floor last night, could muster only a bare quorum of five and only four favorable votes.

Sen. George B. Marshall (R-Franklin) opposed the severity of the penalties prescribed by the bill, forcing postponement of consideration of the measure until a fuller attendante of the committee could be obtained.

The sheriff-prosecutor removal bill was approved by the Senate 22-9, but only after a lively scrap over a modification of the governor's power to remove mayors.

The governor now can remove a mayor by filling charges against him and hearing the case himself as both prosecutor and judge.

The new bill changes that by grouping mayors and prosecutors and by permitting the governor only to file the complaints against them. The hearings would have to be held by the common pleas court in which the accused official serves.

Senate Minority Leader Joseph Bartunek (D-Cuyahoga) tried to get the Senate to let the present mayor removal procedure stand, applying the new procedure to sheriffs and prosecutors only. But his proposed amendment was defeated by a voice vote.

Majority Leader Roscoe R. Walcutt (R-Franklin) attacked the amendment. He called the present mayor removal procedure "vicious, not consistent with good government."

It should, he added, have been repealed long ago.

Eighteen Republicans and four Democrats voted for the bill. Eight Republicans and one Democrat opposed it.

Republicans for: Adams (Wood), Blackburn (Scioto), Collins (Lawrence), Cramer (Lucas), Danner (Summit), Ferguson (Guernsey), Gray (Miami), Headley (Hamilton)), James (Stark), Liggitt (Logan, representing the district which includes Marion County), Marshall (Franklin), Mechem

Open Drive For Ouster Of Acheson

House Coalition Proposes Cutting Off His Salary

WASHINGTON, May 3—(AP)—A potent coalition of House Republicans and southern Democrats is gearing up a drive to try to force the ouster of Dean Acheson as Secretary of State.

Some administration supporters are openly apprehensive the move may succeed.

Leaders of the coalition propose to deny any funds to pay Acheson's salary after June 30. They are even discussing tying up the whole State Department budget for 1952 until Acheson resigns or is replaced.

The State Department's 1952 budget, financing its activities for the year starting next July 1, is due to come before the House late this month. A subcommittee concluded hearings several weeks ago but has delayed sending the budget bill to the House floor.

"Afraid to Try It"

"We just are afraid to try it now," one committee member who asked not to be quoted by name told newsmen. "They would tear it to pieces in order to embarrass the administration."

Asked about the drive to force Acheson out of his job or tie up his pay, House Republican leader Martin of Massachusetts said "anything can happen around here."

Rep. Arends of Illinois, Republican whip, said he was certain such a move would develop.

Rep. Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wisc), a foreign affairs committee member and a leading Acheson critic, said he would spearhead the drive and offer the necessary amendments if no one else does.

State Street Addition Planned

Harding Building To Be Made Into Junior High

This is one of a series of articles explaining urgent need for passage at the May 8 primary of the $2,900,000 bond issue for a new senior high school and for modernization and addition of facilities at other schools. The articles were prepared by the Citizens' Committee formed to promote passage of the bond issue.

THE PRESENT Harding High School building must continue to serve as a school. We cannot house our children without the use of this space. It will no longer serve to meet the needs of the senior high school, but it can be converted into a complete and adequate junior high school for 600 students. When converted it will contain a library, study halls, industrial arts shop, mechanical drawing room, assembly room, gymnasium, music and art rooms, and a modern school lunch room, in addition to sufficient class room space. With a modern lunchroom, students can be kept off the streets during the noon hour.

To those who object that the present Harding building is not an ideal location for a junior high school, we ask you to keep in mind that it is the best possible use the Board of Education can make of this building. It is a fireproof structure, and when converted to junior high school use it will contain all the facilities of our other two junior high schools. With the increased enrollments that will come into our junior high schools in the next few years, this building will house 600 students with plenty of room both for classes and activities.

At Edison Junior High School a modern school lunchroom will be constructed. At present, many students carry lunches from home and eat them at the building, although no lunchroom facilities are provided. With the completion of the school building program, all junior and senior high schools in Marion will be equipped with modern lunch room facilities, serving a well-balanced hot lunch for less than 30 cents a meal.

For many years the students at Central Junior High School

Summary Of Wake Island Talk Studied

Issue of MacArthur Discounting Chinese Intervention Unsettled

WASHINGTON, May 3—(AP)—The administration's newly-published account of the Wake Island talks between President Truman and Gen Douglas MacArthur left unsolved just what sort of reassurance the general gave about Chinese Red intervention in Korea.

To Mr. Truman's question about the chances for "interference" by the Chinese or Soviets, MacArthur replied "very little."

But he went on immediately to discount the chances of success if they should intervene, leaving the possibility that when he said "very little" he may have been speaking of the Reds' chances for success rather than actual intervention.

A 5,000-word summary of the talks in transcript form, some portions of which had been deleted, was made public last night by two Senate committees on the eve of a closed inquiry into MacArthur's ouster and Far East policy.

Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's aide, said in New York the document had about as much bearing on the present situation in Korea as would "a report on the military operation on Bunker Hill."

Whitney also referred to the "covert" taking of notes at the Oct. 15 conference on Wake Island. He said no mention had been made to MacArthur that any record of the talks would be made.

In a letter to Senator Russell

RFC Hearing TV Ruled Out

WASHINGTON, May 3—(AP)—Proposals to televise White House aide Donald S. Dawson's appearance before a Senate investigating committee have been ruled out. The committee has accused Dawson of improperly exerting influence on Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC) loans.

In rejecting suggestions that the open hearings be televised, Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark) of the Senate banking subcommittee, said:

"I don't want to make it a circus."

The committee yesterday earmarked up to three days, starting May 10, to pepper President Truman's patronage adviser with questions about his relation with an alleged influence ring.

Fulbright said the questioning of Dawson will be searching and systematic.

The senator said he expects no eleventh hour challenge of the subcommittee's right to question Dawson, and would resist any move to choke off cross-examination.

Fulbright has contended repeatedly that Dawson "has a duty" as a well-paid employe in a high government post to submit to questioning about the charges made against him.

Lausche Hits Slot Machines

COLUMBUS, O., May 3—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche today directed the sheriff and prosecutor of Ottawa County to stop the operation of slot machines there.

He telegraphed the directive to Sheriff Merlin Budd and Prosecutor Myron A. Rosentreter of Port Clinton.

The governor said he acted because of published reports that some 300 slot machines are "openly and publicly' exhibited and played in Ottawa County."

Sheriff Budd previously said he would do nothing about the machines unless he received a complaint.

The governor's telegram to the sheriff cited a Cleveland News account of the slot machines situation in Ottawa County.

Marion G.I. Wounded In Korean War

Pvt. Lord Second Member of Fighting "Four Horsemen" Hit

The second of Marions fighting "Four Horsemen" was wounded in action April 10, somewhere north of the 38th Parallel.

He is Pvt. Norman E. Lord, son of Mrs. Mabel P. Lord of 550 North State street.

So called because they were friends in civilian life, were drafted together, trained together and went to Korea and combat together in the 7th Regiment of the 1st Cavalry Division Pvt. William H. Vance, Pvt. Arthur Lust, Pvt. Norman Lord and Pvt. Otha A. 'Al" Ralston have been dubbed Marion's fighting "Four Horsemen," by their friends.

Hit In Hand

Lord was hit in the left hand April 10 by the enemy. Whether by shrapnel, small arms or grenade, his family has not learned. He was evacuated to Japan where he is undergoing treatment for his hand. His mother reported she received a letter from him dated April 23 in which he stated he was recuperating nicely.

Lord's being wounded means that only two of the fighting "Four Horsemen" from Marion are still in action and in Korea.

The first member of the quartet to be taken out of action with wounds was Otha A. "Al" Ralston, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs Otha A. Ralston of 284 North State street. He suffered wounds and concussion March 10th when hit by an explosion from an enemy grenade.

Sent to the rear with wounds and nasal hemorrhage he was treated aboard a hospital ship off Pusan for a while and was heading back for the lines when effects of the concussion he suffered began to give him severe headaches and he was returned to Pusan, then shipped to Japan. In a letter received last Monday, he wrote his parents he was recuperating nicely.

The two remaining members of Marion's "Four Horsemen," William H. Vance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde H. Vance of Keytown Camp, south of Marion, and Arthur Lust, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lust of Lynn Road were with Lord when he got hit.

"He sure hated to leave us but we think he'll be back with us before too long," Pvt. Vance wrote his parents in a letter received this week.

FOREST FIRE RAGES

BOSTON, May 3—(AP)—Fire patrols battled on a hundred fronts in eight states today to hold in check forest blazes that swept thousands of acres as freshening winds heightened the danger in New England, New York and New Jersey. The worst scorching withered 7,000 acres in Rhode Island where four persons were injured when flames destroyed half a dozen homes, including two colonial landmarks, and several summer camps.

Today Last Chance To Cast Vote By Absentee Ballot

The deadline for casting absentee ballots for the May 8 primary is 6:30 this evening. To accommodate last-minute absentee voters the Marion County Board of Elections has extended its usual 4:30 closing hour.

Ballots may be received by mail until noon tomorrow, a spokesman for the board said this morning.

A total of 41 such ballots already have been cast by persons planning to be away from their regular voting places on election day. Any person who will be more than 10 miles from the county may cast an absentee ballot if he visits the board office before 6:30.

Iberia School Ransacked By Burglars

Special to The Star

IBERIA, O., May 3—Burglars broke into the Iberia High School last night, taking money, ice cream and candy and causing an estimated $500 damage to the school.

They took the ice cream and candy after breaking a lock on the deep freeze in the school kitchen. An undetermined amount of money from junior class funds was taken from the superintendent's office.

All 12 rooms of the building were ransacked. Windows were broken, doors pried open with crowbars, books and papers torn and scattered throughout the rooms and corridors. School officials estimate damage may run as high as $500.

Superintendent Preston Burggraf said school schedules might be disrupted throughout the day because of the loss of books, papers containing assignments, and class schedules for the school's 400 students.

Morrow County Sheriff George Mosier visited the school early today and began an investigation which disclosed entrance to the building had been gained by breaking out a window in the ground-floor school cafeteria.

The burglary was discovered by L. B. Struthers, school janitor, when he reported for work early today.

None of the loss or damage was covered by insurance, a school spokesman said.

Electrical Storms Halt Phones, TV

COLUMBUS, O., May 3—(AP)—A television station, a radio station and approximately 600 telephones were cut off in an electrical storm last night.

The wind reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour.

WBNS-TV was off the air from 7:45 p.m. (E.S.T.) until 9 p.m. A power line fell across a TV cable and melted it. WCOL was crippled temporarily by the same incident.

Thirteen telephone cables in the city were affectedby the storm, cutting off the 600 phones.

Partial Transcript Of Testimony Made Available To Public

WASHINGTON, May 3—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today he does not believe Soviet Russia is in position to "launch any predatory attack from the Asiatic continent."

The deposed Far Eastern commander gave that estimate to the Senate armed services and foreign relations committees inquiring into MacArthur's dismissal and Far Eastern policy.

MacArthur testified behind closed doors, but a censored transcript of his testimony was given to newsmen.

Russians on Defensive

The general said he believes Russian forces in Siberia "are largely defensive."

In this connection, MacArthur observed:

"I believe that the Soviet has so often repeated the incorrect statment that we are planning to attack him that he has finally begun to believe it himself."

Senator Russell (D-Ga), chairman of the combined committees, called for an estimate by MacArthur on Russian strength in the Far East.

Part of what MacArthur had to say on that was deleted from the transcript given reporters.

In that connection, Senator Hugh Butler (R-Neb), on leaving the hearing earlier, had told reporters MacArthur also said he doesn't believe Russia could move more troops eastward because the trans-Siberian railroad already is taxed to its limit.

The transcript recorded Russell as asking MacArthur about the hazard of having removed all U. S. garrison troops from Japan to Korea when the war broke out last June.

"If Russia had seen fit to have moved at that time, I assume they could have captured Japan, could they not?" Russell asked.

"I would doubt it very seriously, senator," MacArthur replied.

He added that he does not believe Japan could have been taken except by an amphibious effort. Then he said:

"As long as we held control of the sea and of the air over that sea, I would doubt that the Soviet Union would have been able to overrun Japan in any coup de main."

(A coup de main is a sudden and unexpected movement and attack.)

Key Questions

The questions of what Russia might do in the Far East—and the Soviet capacity to act with strength there — are important ones in the whole controversy revolving about MacArthur.

MacArthur has urged blockade of Communist China and air action against it because of the Communist move into the Korean fighting.

The Truman administration's position is that the war should be confined to Korea if possible —that the steps MacArthur proposes might spread the war into a great conflict.

The Russians have a treaty of mutual assistance with the Chinese Communists. Russian arms have been used by the North Korean Reds and the Chinese Communists but thus far there has been no evidence—at least none has been publicly disclosed—of direct Russian intervention in Korea.

Lead-Off Witness

Two Senate committees, meeting jointly, called MacArthur as the first witness at a general inquiry into his differences with the administration and the whole question of U. S. Far Eastern policy.

Reporters were barred from the hearing room on grounds that matters of vital importance to national security might come out in the hearings.

To inform newsmen, and through them the public, an arrangement was made to give out a censored stenographic report of the testimony.

This naturally, however, lagged far behind the actual progress of the hearing.

The first sections of the transcript disclosed that chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the armed services committee opened the hearing with a general statement that he considered them dealing with "momentous questions."

"These questions affect not only the lives of every citizen, but they are vital to the security of our country and the maintenance of institutions of free government," Russell said.

"We shall attempt to obtain the facts which are necessary to permit the Congress to discharge its proper functions and make direct decisions on the problems of war and peace in the Far East and indeed throughout the world."

Russell went on then to praise MacArthur as "one of the great captains of history through three armed conflicts" and as "a great military leader" who has endeared himself to his countrymen.

The first "take" of the "combed" testimony disclosed MacArthur then was asked about the unity of American fighting forces in the Far East.

He said it "has been as complete as I could possibly imagine."

"The responsiveness of each service to the desire and wishes of the other has been almost perfection," he added.

In Korea, MacArthur went on, there has been more than mere integration of the three U. S. services—the Army, Navy and Air Force.

"It has been the integration of the forces of a number of nations, all of which had various components there," he said.

"I would rate it as 100 percent, and the only reason I do not rate it higher is because I believe the mathematicians say 100 percent is all there is."

At the outset, MacArthur told the joint committee he had no prepared statement. He said he had expressed his views fully when he addressed a joint meeting of Congress two weeks ago today.

"I appear today," the general said, "not as a voluntary witness at all, but in response to requests of the committee, and I am entirely in the hands of the committee."

Russell remarked then that "the

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, May 3—(AP)—Gen. MacArthur predicted today a few additional ground troops could wind up the fighting in Korea if backed by the "full capacity" air and naval effort he has urged.

He also testified the Joint Chiefs of Staff recommended last Jan. 12 a naval blockade of Red China, air operations over Manchuria and supply support of Chinese Nationalists.

Since he was never allowed to to carry this out, MacArthur said he "assumes" the Joint Chiefs were overruled by President Truman or Secretary of Defense Marshall.

An hour and 45 minutes after MacArthur took the stand, Senator Tobey (R-N H) came out and told reporters that Senator Russell had done all the questioning up to then. With 21 other committee members entitled to put questions, Tobey said: "You can imagine how long it will take."

Senator Brewster (R-Me) said he thought MacArthur's testimony would take two or three days.

Pill Treatment For Pernicious Anemia Possible

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

CLEVELAND, May 3—(AP)—There's a possibility of a pill treatment for pernicious anemia, the blood disease which now requires its 100,000 American sufferers to take regular injections of vitamin B-12 or liver extract.

There's also hope of detecting potential victims of the disease and of applying a preventive treatment to forestall it, a research team from New York Medical College reported today.

Dr George B Jerzy Glass declared these possibilities are based upon discovery of a substance in human stomach juice which may be the long-sought "missing link" in science's knowledge of the disease. It is called "gastric intrinsic factor."

Glass told the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology he believes the material—or at least some fraction of it—in the pure form is the "missing link" needed to explain the cause but which, lacking, leads to persons having the malady.

He said that "one dose of the substance given by mouth to a few patients allowed oral administration of the usual doses of vitamin B-12 which otherwise would have to be given by injection. Liver is a rich source of B-12.

Power Shovel Foremen To Meet

Election of officers will be the principal business for members of the Marion Power Shovel Foremen's Club at their final meeting of the 1950-51 club series in the Marion Room of the Hotel Harding Saturday night.

The city of Detroit was the winner in the balloting for selection of the destination of the annual summer tour of the club, probably in August. There will be discussion of details of that trip at Saturday night's meeting.

A Dutch lunch will be served at 6:30 o'clock. Entertainment will be provided by two motion picture films, "Then There Were Four," narrated by James Stewart actor, and "The House That Farth Built."

E W Koppes, club president will be in charge.

GIVE TICKET REPORT

MARYSVILLE — A total of 52 traffic tickets were issued by Marysville police during the month of April, according to records in the city police office. Of that number, 29 were issued for overtime parking by city meters. Those arrested promptly called at the station and paid five cents for the overtime parking. Other fines collected amounted to $11.50.

Mysterious "Advisers"

By David Lawrence

Give Out Misleading Truman, MacArthur Reports

WHO are the "presidential advisers" who keep feeding out misleading information about President Truman's relations with General MacArthur before the dismissal occurred? Is it possible that persons interested in promoting differences between Mr. Truman and the former supreme commander in the Far East are now trying to defend their part in a serious political blunder?

These questions will be raised and can be answered now only by the Senate investigating committee. Since they do not involve any "security" information, it ought to be possible to get the facts.

LAWRENCE

Meanwhile it is curious that, despite an explicitly worded denial by General MacArthur that he never saw or read the so-called peace offer which the United Nations was reported to have been preparing last March, the White House through the medium of so-called "Presidential advisers," is placed in the position now of saying that he did receive the document.

The statement in question was circulated to the 14 governments whose troops are serving in Korea. A Washington dispatch last Saturday—16 days after MacArthur's denial—stated that, according to the President's advisers," the proposed U. N. statement was "teletyped to MacArthur in Tokyo with the clear notation that this was to be a Presidential statement which he should see in advance so that he could be guided accordingly. According to the President's advisers, the General not only rushed in to forestall Truman but actually appropriated some of the language in the document."

THE FOREGOING CHARGE was first made before President Truman dismissed General MacArthur. It appeared in the April 2 issue of the magazine Newsweek, which said:

"It (the proposed U. N. statement) had been sent to the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who in turn dispatched it to General MacArthur for his observations. To the complete consternation of the White House and the State Department, MacArthur adopted the essential points of the statement in his own declaration of March 24."

Apparently the substance of the magazine article was telegraphed to General MacArthur, who telegraphed to Newsweek a denial which that magazine, with commendable fairness, publicized in a full-page advertisement in the newspapers of April 12. General MacArthur's radiogram read as follows:

"The statement contained in your issue of April second to the effect that prior to the issuance of my statement on March twenty-fourth of the military situation in Korea I had been furnished a copy of a policy statement by the President cleared by the governments having military forces in Korea is entirely without basis in fact. I have never seen such a statement and do not now if it even exists. Please publish this in the interest of truth."

YET, DESPITE this explicit denial, some White House advisers keep on saying that MacArthur did receive a copy of the proposed U.N. statement. The coming hearings will certainly establish the fact that the Joint Chiefs did not send the proposed statement. What the Joint Chiefs did send on March 20 was a brief message merely advising the General that the State Department was "planning Presidential announcement shortly that, with clearing of bulk of South Korea of aggressors, United Nations now prepared to discuss conditions of settlement in Korea." The message added that a "strong U.N. feeling persists that further diplomatic effort toward settlement should be made before and advance with major forces north of the 38th parallel."

General MacArthur, as a field commander, had a right at any time to propose a truce to the Communist commander, which he did on March 24. This right has since been publicly affirmed by Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the U.N.

THERE IS ABSOLUTELY no evidence in the record that the Joint Chiefs sent the text of any proposed U.N. declaration to General MacArthur. There is some doubt whether they themselves even saw it. The General's statement of March 24 addressed to the Chinese was about 600 words long, and in that entire statement only one sentence occurs which bears any similarity to the Joint Chiefs' message which the General did receive. He said merely that his forces "have now substantially cleared South Korea of organized Communist forces." This is hardly an observation that would occur only to Washington planners. For it is a statement of the obvious in the Korean military situation as of March 24.

Why the White House insists on feeding out stories that General MacArthur saw a copy of the proposed U.N. declaration when there is no record that it ever was sent to him, is one of the mysteries which, if cleared up, may throw light on the identity of the persons who influenced the President to dismiss MacArthur.

Hard Fact About Our Air Power

By Walter Lippmann

THERE is a bit of hard fact, in no sense a military secret, which is not often mentioned though it is of the greatest possible importance to an understanding of the real issues.

That bit of hard fact is that American strategic air power cannot be brought to bear effectively against the vital centers of the Soviet Union except with the consent and active collaboration of Great Britain and France. I do not believe that anyone can dispute the truth of this statement. The bomber fleet does not now exist, and could not be constructed in any near future, which can attack in force the Soviet heartland from bases which are under American sovereign control.

LIPPMANN

Strategic air war against the Soviet Union cannot be conducted with any prospect of being decisive from the pacific side, that is, to say from Japan, Okinawa, Formosa and Alaska. The distances are prohibitive for any sustained assault. To the nearest and by no means the most important industrial area the round trip from Japan is about 5,000 miles. The vital centers of Russia are in the Urals and in European Russia.

They can be attacked seriously only from the European side. But that attack cannot be delivered now or in the foreseeable future, except from bases under British and French sovereignty.

THIS IS THE HARD fact which has to be taken into full account by anyone who wishes to judge responsibly the issues that are now being debated.

The use of the British and French bases, though it would be indispensable if we were at war with the Soviet Union, cannot be taken for granted under any and all circumstances.

The bases do not belong to us; the bases in both British and French territory could not be used unless and until Britain and France had declared war. It is by no means certain, it cannot at all be taken for granted, that they would or could declare war against the Soviet Union in Europe if the Soviet Union confined its action to the Far East. We must remember that the North Atlantic Pact has nothing to do with the Far East.

I am not suggesting or implying that our British and French allies would not stand by us if we ourselves were the victims of plain aggression in the Far East. I believe they would stand by us. But I mean to say that we must not count upon their support if, against their strong objections, we involve ourselves in a general Asian war.

THEY ARE BOUND to hesitate to involve themselves in such a war. For if the war is in Asia and if the Soviet Union does not attack in Europe, how sure can we be, how sure have we a right to be, that the French Parliament would choose to begin a war in which she might receive the first atomic blow from the Russian side.

How would Senator Taft vote if he were an Englishman and a member of the House of Commons? How would he vote if he were a Frenchman and a member of the French Assembly? We shall be prudent and wise if we assume that the instinct of survival will act very powerfully in western Europe, and that the people of western Europe are not likely to stake their very existence on the soundness of Gen. MacArthur's ideas.

In Conference

By TRUMAN TWILL

IN NORTHERN Iran, where war is scheduled to break out as soon as the Kremlin reaches the right date on the calendar, two scholars have dug up a trio of human skeletons which they believe are 75,000 years old.

That's news.

These skeletons, or the fragments, rather, suggest there has been no important change in human structure since about 73000 B. C. This is contrary to a theory that we have been evolving like crazy. Human vanity undoubtedly prompted this notion.

The three Iranian skeletons are not appreciably different from some of the new ones which will be interred in the Middle East in the near future. The scientists say the brain cases are smaller, but that does not mean anything.

For all the scientists know or can guess, these may be the skeletons of a trio of old timers who merely happened to have small heads. Without the privilege of measuring a million skeletons of humans who lived 75,000 years ago, no anthropologists can have a firm idea about human measurements in that remote era.

We prefer to believe this threesome was composed of the three leading lights of their bailiwick in an era, when toprotch leaders were not supposed to have the bighead. They had gone into a cave to hold a conference. The conference lasted so long the cave caved in, the ebb preserving them under some 30 feet of sand and gravel for ultimate discovery.

It takes no special grade of imagination to know what they were conferring about. They had gone into a huddle to make up their minds what time it was. It was early summer. Someone had been fooling with the sun dial again.

This had been happening every year for a long time. One morning in early Summer the sun dial would be pried out of position and everybody would be mixed up. The head men would be urged to do something about it. This always took a long time. In the spring of circa 73000 B.C. it took such a long time the head men [illegible] circa 75,000 years later. And people still did not know what time it was.

As to the fact their skeletons indicate that human beings have not been getting anywhere—that we may not be evolving at all—no one should be impressed by that. There is no evidence anywhere that human beings are improving.

Devolution on the other hand has been getting in some good licks. If all goes well in that direction there soon will be plenty of raw material in Iran for anthropologists to ponder over some 75,000 years hence when they get curious about what happened to the atom busters who lived about 2000 A.D.

Embargo Against China

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

THE ability of the Chinese Communists to stage their massive offensive against the United Nations forces in Korea has stimulated a move among U.N. members to slap a limited embargo on essential war material for China.

Such an economic blockade was one of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's recommendations on which he said the Joint Chiefs of Staff agreed with him. It would be calculated to have far-reaching effects on China's ability to wage war.

Coincident with this U.N. development, Gen. MacArthur has been urging a "positive and realistic" Korean policy "to stop through strength this slaughter of America's sons."

The United States already has clamped a sweeping embargo on Peiping and is crusading among other western members of the U.N. to follow suit. Some of them, notably Britain and France, have been finding difficulties in taking such drastic action, owing to their great commitments in the Far East.

While proceeding with caution, Britain has inaugurated the licensing of rubber shipments from Malaya to prevent the Communist countries from stock-piling this vital war material. So far as concerns U.N. sanctions, Britain does not feel that the time has arrived for them, though it agrees that they should be studied.

The British point out that their position is affected by their commonwealth relations and obligations.

India, a member of the commonwealth, is a case in hand. India is against sanctions. One rather obvious reason is that it lies up against Red China when it might be expected to try to force its neighbor into the Communist fold in due course. New Delhi doesn't feel like challenging Red China at this juncture.

Pakistan, British Malaya, Ceylon, Singapore, and the crown colony of Hongkong are among other places in the picture. Naturally, trade figures in the picture, but so do the defensive importance of strategic bases like Singapore and Hongkong. And the Chinese Reds are right up against the border of Hongkong.

Britain does not want to embark on such a project as the embargo unless it can be made effective. It feels that the good offices committee of the U.N. should try to persuade Red China to stop fighting.

The trouble with such a program is that American, British, French and other U.N. soldiers will be sacrificing their lives while "persuasion" is tried.

Congress Quiz

Q—What has been the intended expiration date for the Marshall Plan, which President Truman has declared Congress should extend?

A—When the Economic Cooperation Administration was created in 1948, Congress saw June 30, 1952, as the end of the economic aid program. But President Truman wrote April 16 that the plan's expiration date should be repealed.

Marion County History Brevities

There were 27 murders committed within the limits of Marion County in 1883, which number was reported as "less than the average." Several cases afforded no clue to the perpetrators, therefore many never came to trial. Many of the crimes were of extreme violence, and were made to cover-up the real motive. Several men found dead on the railroad tracks, with bodies severed, were known to have lost their lives by other means. Poison was a medium of great importance of this era, and was used by many on innocent people. Fits of temper many were murdered, as the strength of the early settlers was great and often uncontrolled. All this is reported according to narratives in county histories.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Beef Ceiling Questions and Answers

Q.—What is the purpose of the latest OPS regulations on beef?

A.—To get more meat to you at more reasonable prices.

Q.—Could the public stand the shock of such a break?

A.—Only if its meat is tough and its table knife dull.

Q.—Does the OPS propose to do anything about the dull table knife?

A.—It believes the dull knife is an outstanding factor in the meat crisis. When the steak is smaller and tougher it makes the meal longer and more exciting.

Q.—How are beef prices controlled in Washington?

A.—First by regulating what the packers pay for meat on the hoof from the cattle raiser.

Q.—I notice the cattleman is omitted from regulations. Will he sell his cattle at the prices packers will be allowed to pay?

A.—The OPS asks for optimism on this point.

Q.—If I am running low on optimism in the matter of meat, what do I do?

A.—You roll back your optimism to the date when last you were not worried over the meat outlook.

Q.—How is the butcher controlled?

A.—The OPS asks him to grade his meat and observe ceilings on each grade.

Q.—I heard this the last time. Why not grade the butcher instead of the meat? There is the excellent butcher, the good butcher, the fair butcher, and the larcenous butcher.

A.—Mike DiSalle has headaches enough without going into this.

Q.—When do the new rules begin?

A.—They began with the butchers on May 20 in order to take the retailers and wholesalers "out of the squeeze suffered since the freeze order of January 26." The consumers will not benefit until next August.

Q.—Why not take the consumer out of the squeeze he has been in since Jan. 26 and long before that?

A.—He is so used to a squeeze he has to be taken out of it very gradually.

Q.—When will I as consumer get cheaper meat?

A.—In the autumn when the frost is on the pumpkin and DiSalle is on "Meet the Press." You should be paying ten percent less by that time with good luck and low blood pressure. And there is always the vegetable plate in case of a tie.

Q.—Isn't from April to October a long time to wait for a meat dish?

A.—Yes, but you can be resourceful this summer and hunt buffalo or deer.

Q.—Do the meat regulations apply to hamburger?

A.—Where did you get the idea there was any relationship between hamburger and meat?

Q.—Will the ceiling prices posted in markets be the same everywhere?

A.—No. There will be store classifications; also zones.

Q.—Doesn't this make it more intricate?

A.—Not if you stay in one zone.

Q.—How will I know what zone I am in?

A.—If you get a tender steak ten percent cheaper you will know you are in a temperate zone. If you have to argue with the butcher you will be in a tropic zone. If you appeal to the store manager and he says he can't do a thing, you will know you are in a frigid zone.

Q.—Why can't OPS make its meat rules work faster?

A.—It wants "the minimum dislocation in the beef industry."

Q.—What about the dislocations in the life and habits of the consumer?

A.—If all a consumer suffers is dislocations he should be happy. In his quest for a good steak at a low price he is lucky to escape fractures.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Long-Haired Music, Short-Haired Jockey

"Only yesterday, jitterbugs were dancing in the aisle of the Paramount to my band," says Benny Goodman on his Sunday afternoon symphony hour on WNEW in New York. "There certainly has been a change since that time. Today a lot of the kids have learned to like classical music as well as jazz. The long hair label doesn't scare 'em any more."

That is heartening news, especially heartening to Goodman, who is trying to break down the barriers in music which make things like music is music and that it shouldn't be compartmentalized into classic, jazz, popular, or folk music and that its devotees shouldn't compartmentalize themselves into certain categories and cut themselves off from other categories.

John Crosby

Theoretically, on his Sunday program (3 p.m. EST) on which you will hear the great works of Beethoven, Brahms, Haydn, Mozart, Mendelssohn, Goodman is a long-haired music lover. But his comments are very short-haired, exceedingly sensible and frequently witty.

On the subject of other music or variations, for example: "Some of these contemporaries sound as if they're reading off the back of a phonograph album . . . 'Notice the tense position, the strong tonal contrast . . . and the slight contrapuntal color in the second theme . . . ' I suggested. — Why must everything be so solemn?"

GOODMAN'S COMMENTS are anything but solemn. But they're pretty darned learned. "The next and last item on today's agenda," he's likely to tell you, "is a composition by Brahms with an assist by Haydn. To be specific, it's Brahms's variation on a theme by Haydn. This variation business is an interesting process. It seems as though a musician wants to express something and then has to figure out several dozen other ways of saying it. In classical music the composer takes a theme — either his own or another composer's — and writes variations around it. In jazz, the musicians take a theme and play variations on it, usually extemporaneously.

"In my opinion the best variations are those in which the basic theme is never wholly lost or forgotten. As an example, I will interpolate a record of 'After You've Gone' which I made with the sextet . . ." And he did, after which he said, "That should be enough of an introduction, so let's listen to Arturo Toscanini and the New York Philharmonic playing 'Brahms Variations On A Theme By Haydn'." That's Mr. Goodman's method, both musically and verbally, of breaking down the barriers between the classic and jazz camps. Very good method.

GOODMAN LOVES to poke holes in the pomp and circumstance surrounding music, both classic and jazz. "A dozen people I know won't have anything to do with Tschaikowski's music. It's too popular. But would I like to hear a wonderful little madrigal by Monteverdi—or a sensational Bach cantata that practically no one has ever heard before? Same thing goes with jazz. A lot of people wouldn't set foot in a Broadway theater to listen to a band. The band is too popular. If you're really 'with it' you'll go to this little place on such-and-such street. It's only twelve steps down and you might not be able to fight your way through the smoke—but, boy, do they make music there."

This astringent point of view is very refreshing in a field as surrounded by snobbery as music of all sorts. Goodman also likes to take a swing at the Hollywood screen treatment of great composers. "You know the thing I mean. A fellow walks into this music publisher's office. The publisher says 'Sorry, my boy, your work isn't commercial,' shows him the door saying: 'What's your name?' The composer says 'Bach. Johann Sebastian Bach.'

"LATER WE see Bach playing the clavier in a little sale full of smoke. He's very despondent and in walks a lovely little fraulein—right up to the clavier. He doesn't notice her but she picks up a copy of sheet music—upside down—and says, 'This is sensational. That's all she says but right off—they both know. It's love. Yes, it's love but they break up in a little while over some trivial matter like who threw the diminished seventh in the stew.

"I don't know how Hollywood could explain away Bach's 13 kids or the fact that he was a very quiet and industrial fellow but I imagine they could find a way."

An acute shortage of sheepherders is said to be a major factor in the decline of wool and lamb production of the United States.

Man Cleared Of Murdering Wife; Confession Phony

LISBON, O., May 3—(AP)—Kitchen helper John Higgins, 49, has promised to pay back the $175 he cost Columbiana County by making a phony confession that he poisoned his wife.

Besides that, he says he's going back to his old job near Mineola, N. Y., "join Alcoholics Anonymous, marry a good woman and settle down."

His wife, Hallie, died 10 years ago at East Liverpool and the coroner ruled the death a suicide. That's the way it stood until four weeks ago when Higgins told New York police he poisoned her.

Hustled back here for prosecution he then declared the confession was false and that he was drunk when he made it.

His denial was confirmed yesterday by Prosecutor James L. MacDonald who dropped all charges against him. The prosecutor said he received an affidavit from Lawrence Mathis, now of Nashville, Tenn., who roomed in the Higgins home when the woman died in January, 1941.

In the affidavit Mathis said he and Higgins heard Mrs. Higgins, a cancer sufferer, shout from the kitchen: "I took them."

When they went into the kitchen they saw a bottle which had contained bichloride of mercury tablets smashed in the sink, Mathis said.

Marion Garden Center Notes

AFRICAN VIOLETS

Don't let them fool you. African Violets are very easily grown house plants. Follow a few simple rules and you will be amply rewarded with blooms most of the year.

First of all, if possible, start with a healthy one-crown plant in not too small a pot. If you are potting your own don't use just any old soil from the garden or barnyard. For best results and the little it costs you may buy over the counter a soil especially prepared for them.

Don't keep them standing in water. It is best to alternate in watering, first from the top and then from the bottom. This washes the salts in the soil back and forth and no crust will collect on the top even though you use tap water.

They must have light. They will stand rather a high temperature but do not let the temperature fall too low at night. Best never below 60 degrees.

Also they must have fresh air now and then even in winter to bloom.

In Loving Memory

★Of Otto Layman who left this life a year ago today, May 3, 1950.
God has a plan for each of us,
And we will never know;
The schedule hour His train will stop
At our station here below.
To take us on that one way trip,
From which there's no return;
But, oh, how fair that land must be,
And how our hearts do yearn,
For him who left a year ago
Into that mansion place,
Where, if God wills, we'll go one day,
And greet his smiling face.
Mrs. O. F. Layman,
Mrs. Garold Roberts
and family.

GOOD ENOUGH FOR ME—
BUT NOT FOR YOU, SON!

"If I were still driving, I'd carry a lot more Auto Insurance now than I did. Why, just the other day I read that the average damage award from a recent group of lawsuits resulting from auto accidents topped $28,000 apiece! Your generation is a lot more 'claim-conscious' than mine ever was.

"Take a tip; get your agent to increase your Automobile Insurance before another day passes —it's the sensible thing to do."

Florida Governor Strikes Back At Kefauver Charges

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 3—(AP)—Gov. Fuller Warren says he's willing to meet Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) in a public debate where the head of the U. S. Senate's crime committee will be legally liable for what he says.

Warren made his plea for a meeting on a public platform in a statement branding what he called Kefauver's latest attack on him as "false, untrue, malicious and cowardly."

In its third report, issued Tuesday, the Kefauver committee said:

"After accepting a huge campaign contribution from William H. Johnston, who has close associations with present and past members of the Capone syndicate, Warren allowed the power of his office to be used by the Capone syndicate in its successful effort to muscle into Miami Beach gambling."

The committee also strongly condemned Warren's reinstatement of Sheriff Jimmy Sullivan of Dade County "without a full and public investigation of all the facts."

Warren said in his statement there was no testimony which proves Kefauver's "false and malicious charges against me."

The governor added:

"Kefauver's cowardly attacks upon me were made pursuant to a deal he entered into with political enemies of mine in Miami, whereby he would smear me in return for their promise to try and deliver for him for president the votes of Florida's delegates to the Democratic national convention next year."

Bank Held Up Third Time In Six Months

WINONA, W. Va., May 3—(AP)—The Winona National Bank got it again yesterday, the third time in six months it has been held up.

Two brash young bandits with red paint on their faces and a shotgun and pistol in their hands forced cashier J. R. Hisey to turn over $15,546.

One of the two even dared Hisey to remember the waiting car's license number before they roared away.

One person who passed the getaway car said there was a young blonde girl with the two tall gunmen. Hisey didn't see a girl.

One had his face painted a mahogany red and wore a false mustache. The other's face was smeared with a lighter red, and he wore a false rubber nose.

A car apparently used in their getaway was found abandoned a few miles away. No further clues were reported.

Last March Hisey wounded James Burks, 40-year-old Negro from nearby Beckley, when Burks tried to hold up the bank. Burks is awaiting trial.

Last November Donald A. Deen, 23, and Okey C. Neff, 26, soldiers on furlough from Fort Eustis, Va., got $19,000 from the bank. They were recaptured several days later and are now serving 25-year prison terms.

Britons Put End to Free False Teeth, Eyeglasses

LONDON, May 3—(AP)—The Socialists today voted an end to free false teeth and eyeglasses for Britons — but not before a lot of laborites complained at length about the new charges.

The House of Commons approved a bill to curtail the free health services by a vote of 262 to 3. Opponents, who insisted on being heard, prolonged debate until early morning.

Many Laborites spoke in opposition to their own party's measure and a large bloc refrained from voting. Most Conservatives—who approve the new charge—also abstained, although a handful went along with the government.

The bill will require Britons to pay half the cost of the specs and dentures for the next three years.

Grandma Replies

NEW YORK

WHO said the old-fashioned American grandma had joined the vanished dodo?

Who said they ought to find a real oldtime grandma and grandpa and put them in a museum for the nostalgic joy of future generations

Was it I who said the old folks had forsaken the old ways and spent their time now learning the samba and keeping night club operators up past their bedtime?

Okay, guilty I said it. I'm wrong. I retract. It just turns out all I know are grandparents who pursue elderly glamor. Must be I just been circulating in the wrong cucles. Got to mend my ways.

HAL BOYLE

Scarce as cigar store Indians? Heck. Why the way the mail has been pouring in the country must be brimful of old-fashioned grannies and granddads. And the tenor of their letters is this:

What difference does it make whether we are old-fashioned or new-fashioned? Anyone who has lived as long as we have, and done as much, has got a right to run the last lap any way he wants to."

Granted, Granny!

A FOXY GRANDPA scribbled on a postcard:

"Young man, you missed the whole picture. Grandma and I don't have to sit in a chimney corner, and we don't go to night clubs. But we make more money babysitting than we'd get if we took a government pension. Why? Because it's the young folks that gallivant today and let other people take care of their children."

Did I really say grandmas don't make quilts anymore? Well, listen to Grandmother Perry of Linden, Mich.,—and I wish you could see her fine old-fashioned handwriting:

"I am a great-grandmother 73 years old. I wash and iron for the seven of us and make four beds each day. Also made four quilts all by hand this winter, and I've made 25 quilts since I was 50."

Grandmother Perry says she doesn't go much but she does like to have her gray hair fixed and wear red nail polish, and adds firmly:

"Now if these other grandmothers have a good time I glory in their spunk."

AND WAS IT I who said they'd rather look like Marlene Dietrich than Whistler's mother?

"Even though I don't look quite like Whistler's mother there's a little bit of me there," writes grandmother Bea White of Lewiston, Idaho. "And I know that I'm as much loved by my own. Anyway what grandchild wants grandma to look like Whistler's Mother in this jet age?

"I still make quilts and sew and mend and wash for my own family. Besides this, old grandma works in granopa's office from 9 a.m. till 5 p.m., and then I go home and prepare dinner."

Grandma White hasn't gone in for peroxide. She is a proud reddish-blonde—"the natural hair God gave me."

GRANDMOTHER Margaret Ingraham of Beverly, Mass., took time out from spring cleaning to say she enjoyed being old-fashioned and didn't drink or smoke. She has just finished a quilt

"Although I have no white hairs—or just a few," she wrote, "I wear my hair in straight bangs. I don't resemble Whistler's Mother, and 'Gramps' thinks I still look good to him."

Grandmother Ingraham had four sons in the last war, and one is now back in the Navy

"I feel pretty young for my years," she says, "but although God let me have my boys back last time, I would be a sad sack if I had to go through it again. I pray for peace. But sometimes I think the only peace we have is a little in our hearts, and now and then moments of happiness as we go along."

All right, grandmas old and new, I've had my spanking. Now can I say to you what a friendly stranger once said to me? "Just keep on living!" Nobody ever wanted you in a museum. You're too much fun here.

Coeds' Utopia

By Inez Robb

DAVIS, CALIF.

ANOTHER newspaper man, one Horace Greeley, more than 100 years ago issued a bit of misguided advice. "Go west, young man, go west."

Although I am the first to realize that I can scarce compete with a titan of Mr. Greeley's dimensions, nonetheless I think the bit of advice I am about to give can well be historic, too.

"Go west, young woman, go west," is my admonition, and do it on the double with Davis as your goal. The depressing statistics that women now outnumber men in these United States can no longer be denied.

Inez Robb

But in this a paradise (Davis, that is), the statistics are still in favor of the girls if they make haste. This community is the home of the College of Agriculture of the University of California, and as this is written the enrollment consists of 1,400 men and a scattering of coeds, or 1,400 to the specific.

NATURALLY, WITH the draft and one thing and another, the gap narrows every day. But there is still room for considerable shrinkage in the girls' enrollment before the balance is unfavorable for the co-eds. This campus is now secretly known as the happy hunting grounds or Minnehaha's heaven. Don't delay; start today!

The school is famous for other things, too, besides all these great big, beautiful hunks of men running around loose. For example, it boasts a school of veterinary medicine so new, modern and dazzling that if I am ever took with distemper or the heaves in New York, I shall wire here immediately, asking the school to reserve the third stall on the sunny side of the hospital barn for me.

DAVIS IS A SMALL community without a hospital for humans. All the children born in Davis are born in taxicabs en route to hospitals in other communities but animals never had it so good as in this new $5,000,000 school of veterinary medicine where the operating rooms are more modern and prophylactic than anything I have ever seen in a hospital for people.

But it is also true that doctors of veterinary medicine bury their mistakes as do M. D.'s. The operating room for horses, there is a disconcerting (to a horse, that is) track built into the ceiling, from which pulleys are suspended.

If the operation is a success but the horse dies, it is an easy matter to attach the victim to the pulleys and remove him to the horse morgue in jig time.

THE RURAL AREAS of America are just as short of veterinarians as of M. D's. I was told by Dr. Hugh Cameron, professor of veterinary science who is in charge of the veterinary clinic. There is a dire shortage of vets throughout the nation.

Furthermore, I learned it takes just as long to become a horse as a human doctor. Two years of pre-veterinary work are required before the future horse doctor can qualify for the four year course in veterinary medicine. This adds up to six years, as does the M. D's course.

If a vet wants to make money, and Dr. Cameron could scarcely keep the scorn out of his voice, he goes to the city and opens a hospital for cats and dogs.

"The money is in small animals," he said.

BUT IF THE VET is dedicated to his profession, he seeks out the rural areas and takes care of farm animals. It's hard work, Dr. Cameron said, and not for sissies.

The vet clinic at Cal Aggies takes care of all sorts and kinds of animals, including skunks. It takes only a very simple operation to turn a skunk into a delightful house pet, Dr. Cameron said.

However, one skunk recently showed fight, the doctor admitted, and "the whole place had to be aerated." Took two days to get the place aired out so that either humans or other animals could stand diagnosis.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

ON WORD flashed here from Moscow, the American Communist Party National Committee (Politburo) was summoned to a secret, and guarded, council room deep in party headquarters here some 10 days ago. By the time the U. S. Politburo members gathered they knew they were to receive instructions on tactics to exploit President Truman's dismissal of General MacArthur.

However, that political session was not as well guarded as the Politburo thought, and its decisions can be revealed here in detail for the first time and its American policy discussion disclosed verbatim.

Victor Riesel

No reference to any of the Communist International documents just arrived in this country that the objective of this particular order will be a mass drive through the unions for an "Appeal For a Peace Pact." Watch for that slogan!

Watch especially for the formal launching of this campaign at an "American People's Congress and Exposition for Peace" in Chicago on June 29-30 and July 1. Pro-Communist unionleaders, especially in the huge Ford River Rouge plant, have been assigned quotas for the demonstration which has been ordered to have at least 5,000 "delegates" there.

The second most important directives passed on at the secret session was:

"Find a link with the wide circles of workers who, in the recent period, have become more anti-Truman and are influenced by MacArthur.

"Some of the masses have become convinced that the solution (of the world problem) is by prosecuting the war. Others have come to believe in the inevitability of war and want to get it over with.

"And still others are victims of anti-Soviet propaganda. Contact with these individuals will be on simple issues: getting the boys out of Korea. No troops in Europe. Fight against the wage freeze. Non-participation by labor in the war mobilization boards."

THIS ANALYSIS of American working class sentiment apparently comes from swift reports gathered by the special three to five-man party cells set up, as reported here a year ago, in the key industrial areas along the West Coast, in the Chicago-Detroit-Pittsburgh — Ohio tool, machine and steel belts. And, of course, in the Baltimore-New York-Boston sector.

Coupled with this second order is a third insistance upon:

"Direct attention for applying correct tactical approach to those who applaud the Truman action and will come to the support of the Administration against the violent attacks of the MacArthur group (which the Communists said that afternoon is led by Sen. Taft and Herbert Hoover).

"The (Communist) Party must develop united front action with these masses by pointing out that past and present war policy (of Mr. Truman) still is a war course. Exert great pressure to institute immediately negotiation for a settlement of the Korean war and the China problem."

This last directive, which was one of many others handed down that day, revealed that the party knew that many top A.F.L. and C.I.O. leaders ("labor's officialdom" was the phrase used at the meeting) had wired President Truman support in the MacArthur controversy—and that Mr. Truman was sending each labor chief a special, and unusually cordial, letter of thanks.

These Politburo orders were geo-political, indeed. The assignment was to move Munich to Asia!

Partial G.O.P. Victory

... Russell (D-Ga) of the Armed Services Committee, said the vote was 25 to 0 to open the hearings to the 71 senators who are not members of the two committees.

The vote was a partial victory for the Republicans who had sought yesterday to get all senators into the hearings and also to open them up to the general public.

Russell said the question of admitting the public was not brought up at the meeting of the joint committees.

The committee huddle over this question delayed the actual start of the hearings. MacArthur, who arrived by plane this morning from New York, waited meanwhile in a nearby office.

Greeted At Airport

MacArthur and his aides were greeted at National Airport by Senators Bridges (R- N H) and Byrd (D-Va) as they came down the ramp from the four-engined Constellation, Bataan.

In contrast to his previous visit here last month, when a crowd of more than 10,000 welcomed him with wild cheers, there was virtually no turnout at the airport today.

A double line of soldiers kept back reporters and photographers and only a few spectators were on hand.

MacArthur, stepping down from the plane, shook hands with the two senators.

To Senator Byrd he said: "I haven't seen you in a long time, Harry."

Asked by reporters if he had any comment to make, MacArthur replied:

"What I have to say I will say before the committee."

The only high ranking military official observed at the airport was the commanding general of the military district of Washington, Maj. Gen. Thomas W. Herren.

After pausing briefly to talk with the senators, MacArthur walked slowly to a waiting car and left for the Capitol.

Byrd and Bridges, who had been designated by the Senate committees to meet MacArthur and escort him to the hearing, rode with him.

The car was accompanied by a motorcycle escort on the two-mile trip.

Raging Battle

The five star general of the Army arrived from New York in the midst of a raging battle over public hearings and secret documents bearing on his ouster by President Truman.

It was his second visit to Washington since his precipitate departure from Tokyo. On April 19 he came here to address a joint meeting of Congress. Today he was here to outline his views on Asia and answer questions of senators ranged at tables around him.

The party reached the Senate office building at 8:35 and went directly to Senator Byrd's office.

The general got a round of applause from a couple hundred persons who had been waiting to see him enter the office building.

Inside, Capitol employes lined the corridor and cheered him as he walked along.

MacArthur smiled and waved to them. He wore his familiar trench coat and battered cap.

Byrd's office is just across the hall from the Senate armed services committee room, where the closed door hearings were starting at 9 o'clock.

Advisers forecast a firm stand by the general on his contention that the vital fight against communism lies in Asia and that it ought to be accelerated by a blockade of China, air operations over Manchuria and use of Chinese Nationalist troops.

President Truman has said any expansion of this kind in the fighting in Korea might lead to World War III.

Wherry Motion

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the G.O.P. floor leader, earlier led Republicans in fighting for his motion to throw the hearings open to the public.

With a four and a half hour filibuster against the Wherry proposal, topped with a 42 to 40 vote to recess the Senate, Senate Democrats staved off the move for the public hearings—at least until 11 a. m., (EST), two hours after the scheduled beginning of MacArthur's testimony.

Of the public hearing move, Russell commented:

"General MacArthur himself has a pretty good sense of security. He didn't ask for open hearings."

Russell contended such hearings might lay open vital military secrets.

Even with the closed sessions, some Republican senators charged the committees have been denied a look at highly important secret documents. These were said to include the minutes of the Joint Chiefs of Staff meetings and Asiatic war plans prepared before the Communist aggression in Korea last June.

Russell, presiding over the combined committees, conceded to reporters that not all of the documents asked by the committee had been made available by the Defense Department.

Details Omitted

Some of these apparently would touch on points made in a summary by the Joint Chiefs of President Truman's Oct. 15, 1950 conference with MacArthur on Wake Island.

Released by the committees yesterday, this summary included, among other things, quotations in which the general was represented as telling Mr. Truman he did not fear intervention in the war by the Chinese Reds or the Russians. This was only a few days before the first Chinese "volunteers" appeared in the lines, followed by waves of Communist troops.

Sales-Ad Club Hears Official Of Federation

C. James Proud of New York, assistant to the president of the Advertising Federation of America, spokes to the Marion Sales-Ad Club at a meeting yesterday at Hotel Harding. His topic was "Responsibility of Advertising to the Present Emergency."

Mr. Proud outlined the needs of advertising in the emergency and advised club members against any kind of "scare" advertising and advertising playing up shortages, since there are none.

He announced the Marion club has been accepted as a member of the Advertising Federation of America and the club will be given its charter formally at the federation's national convention in St. Louis in June.

John House, chairman of the membership committee, announced the results of a membership drive. Two new members were admitted to the club, Glenn Walraven and Clifford Boettcher.

Guests were Ernest Brady, R. A. Bagley, Jack Carr, and Perry Bachelder of Marion, J. E. Haglam of Columbus and Bruce Thompson of Cleveland.

Draft Bills To Curb Vice

WASHINGTON, May 3—(AP)—Senator O'Conor (D-Md) said today Senate crime investigaters hope, "within a couple of weeks," to introduce bills to carry out their proposed shackles on underworld syndicates.

Stressing they were anxious "to strike while the iron is hot," O'Conor said committee lawyers will set to work immediately with Senate bill-drafting experts to whip their anti-crime proposals into shape.

O'Conor, the new committee chairman, also told reporters a chief counsel to succeed Rudolph Halley may be selected before the end of the week or by the first of next week.

Halley returned to private law practice after the crime probers submitted a report to the Senate Tuesday on a year-long investigation conducted under the chairmanship of Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn).

When the committee's life was extended to Sept. 1, Kefauver insisted on relinquishing the chairmanship so that he would have more time for other affairs. He agreed, however, to remain on the group.

The committee's report on its nationwide investigation made 22 recommendations for federal measures to help combat crime. Most of them will require action by Congress.

Seattle Woman Named Catholic Mother of Year

SEATTLE, May 3 — (AP)—A Japanese-born mother of 13 children who does not speak or read English has been named Catholic mother of 1951.

She is Mrs. Teresa Matsudaira, 49. Twelve of her children are living, and 11 of them live with her. They range in age from 28 to 2½ years.

Though the honor came to her early yesterday in a telegram from New York, Mrs. Matsudaira was unaware of it for several hours.

Her husband, Thomas, saw the telegram but was not able to read it. In the afternoon one of her nine sons, Francis, 21, translated the telegram for her.

have had no physical education program. Even with the excellent new State Street Junior High School building, these students are still without physical education. With the passing of the bond issue May 8, physical education and assembly space will be provided at State Street. Thus all of our junior and senior high school boys and girls will be provided with an adequate physical education program. One of the requirements for a standard secondard school program in Ohio is 100 minutes of physical education a week for each student. Upon the completion of the school building program, Marion schools will meet this requirement for the first time in many years. In every area of town we shall have a modern, complete junior high school program for all Marion boys and girls.

Toledo Official Readies Reply

TOLEDO, O., May 3—(AP)—City Councilman James B. Simmons Jr., seeking to show that the linking of his name with Communists could have no special significance, prepared to tell the Ohio legislative committee investigating subversive activities, how prominent officials appeared on the same program here with a known Communist.

Rep. Kenneth C. Robinson of Marion County is chairman of the investigating committee.

Simmons said he would show at this afternoon's hearing in Columbus that a former mayor, a former congressman, a former city councilman, and an assistant prosecuting attorney were among those who spoke from the same platform with an avowed Communist at a meeting sponsored by the mass movement league.

The councilman said he would testify he cannot recall ever having given any money to William Cummings, former F.B.I. undercover agent in the Communist party, for the defense of 11 Communists who were tried in New York. He said he would admit he has read the Sunday Worker, a Communist publication, but that he read it, together with other publications, to keep informed of current thought.

Wake Island

(D-Ga), presiding at the inquiry, Gen. Omar Bradley said the account was pieced together on the return from Wake from longhand notes made by a number of those who took part, plus a stenographic record of some portions.

Bradley said Ambassador Philip G. Jessup's secretary, Miss Vernice Anderson, was in the next room and took down in shorthand what she could hear. He added that was "a large part of the conversation."

The record did not purport to tell anything that went on between Mr. Truman and MacArthur in their hour-long private talk. It covered only that portion of the conference also attended by their advisers. Among others, these included Secretary of the Army Pace and Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Bradley said five copies of the record were sent to MacArthur in Tokyo shortly after the conference, and so far as he knew MacArthur had not suggested any changes. Whitney said "no attention" was paid to the copies when they were received in Tokyo.

Much of the talk, as it was put down in the summary, concerned what should be done in Korea when the fighting stopped. Everyone evidently assumed it would stop soon.

Excerpts From Talks

The conference took place about two weeks before the mass intervention by the Chinese Reds, which MacArthur said created "a new war."

The summary said Mr. Truman started the conference by asking MacArthur about rehabilitation of Korea. It continued:

MacArthur: "It cannot occur until the military operations have ended. I believe that formal resistance will end throughout North and South Korea by Thanksgiving. There is little resistance left in South Korea . . .

"It is my hope to be able to withdraw the Eighth Army to Japan by Christmas. . . . . "

Then there followed a long discussion of economic and other rebuilding of Korea, during which the summary recorded this exchange:

Pace: "Is there anything in terms of ECA and Army cooperation that we might do to help you?"

MacArthur: "No commander in the history of war has ever had more complete and adequate support from all agencies in Washington than I have."

After a further recorded discussion of problems which would arise when the fighting stopped, the summary continued:

Mr. Truman:

"What are the chances for Chinese or Soviet interference?"

MacArthur: "Very little. Had they interfered in the first or second months it would have been decisive. We are no longer fearful of their intervention. We no longer stand hat in hand.

"The Chinese have 300,000 men in Manchuria. Of these probably not more than 100-125,000 are distributed along the Yalu River. Only 50-60,000 could be gotten across the Yalu River. They have no air force. Now that we have bases for our Air Force in Korea, if the Chinese tried to get down to Pyongyang (the North Korean capital) there would be the greatest slaughter.

Soviets Different

"With the Russians it is a little different. They have an air force in Siberia and a fairly good one, with excellent pilots equipped with some jets and B-25 and B-29 planes. They can put 1,000 planes in the air with some 2-3,000 more from the Fifth and Seventh Soviet fleets. They are probably no match for our air force.

"The Russians have no ground troops available for North Korea. They would have difficulty in putting troops into the field. It would take six weeks to get a division across and six weeks brings the winter . . . ."

Mr. Truman: "Another subject—what is your idea about a Japanese peace treaty without including Russia and Communist China?"

MacArthur: "I would call a conference at once and invite them. If they don't come in, go ahead. After the treaty is drawn up, submit to them a draft of the treaty and if they don't sign, go ahead with the treaty. The Japanese deserve a treaty. (Portion deleted). The present draft of the treaty by the State Department is very good. After friction with the Joint Chiefs of Staff it has been polished until it shines like a diamond. . . . "

Mr. Truman: "Would we have to maintain three or four divisions in Japan until the Japanese can secure themselves?"

MacArthur: "I should say that they would have to be maintained there for several years. . . "

Bradley: "The Eighth Army is returning to Japan soon. We have the problem of getting additional troops to Europe. As it now stands it will be April before we can get a division into Europe. Could the Second or Third Division be made available to be sent over to Europe by January?"

MacArthur: "Yes, I will make one available by January. I would recommend that the Second Division be selected, as it is a veteran division, better trained, and would make a better impression."

Asks MacArthur Views

After a further discussion of Japanese occupation: Exchange took place:

Mr. Truman: "I would like to have your views, general, on a possible Pacific pact or some other arrangements similar to that in the Atlantic."

MacArthur: "A pacific pact would be tremendous, but due to the lack of homogeneity of the Pacific nations, it would be very difficult to put into effect. If the President would make an announcement like the Truman doctrine, which would be a warning to the predatory nations, it would have a great effect. . . . the President should follow up this conference with a ringing pronouncement. . . ."

Mr. Truman: "General MacArthur and I have talked fully about Formosa. There is no need to cover that subject again. The general and I are in complete agreement."

King George Opens Festival Of Britain

LONDON, May 3—(AP)—King George VI opened the festival of Britain today.

He stood in his admiral's uniform under a purple canopy on the steps of St. Paul's Cathedral and told a huge, cheering throng it is a sorry and troubled world, but there is no need for despondency.

The five-month festival which he inaugurated is a symbol of Britain's will to live and Britain's defiance of adversities, he said.

The weather was gray but mild as the king moved in a procession of extraordinary splendor from Buckingham Palace to St. Paul's Cathedral.

There the Archbishop of Canterbury presided over a dedicatory service. There were dozens of ambassadors and every minister of the crown. Leaders of all political parties gave the brave festival their approval.

Labor Prime Minister Clement Attlee and opposition leader Winston Churchill beamed as they met, and for once were working together for the success of a mighty project.

The king's address outside St. Paul's inaugurated a festival which, centered in London, spreads out to embrace many hundreds of cities and hamlets in England, Wales, Scotland and northern Ireland.

Promoters hope it will be a lush year for tourists. The festival was conceived also as an event commemorating the anniversary of the great Victorian exhibition of 1851.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

[illegible] I had a revelation and because Uncle Phil is the owner of the hotel and his suite is the biggest there is and away up on roof, it's the safest place for young Peter. But me and Aunt Katherine can't say up there by themselves so Grandaddy wants you and Grannie to stay up there, too, and help Mary Katherine. There'll be a guard outside in the hall always so you need never be afraid."

She lifted her head proudly.

"I'm not afraid," she said. "I was just scared stiff about you. But now, that I know I'll be all right. You will come up often, won't you, Mumms?"

"Of course, darling," I said, kissing her in my arms. "And now we must go back to Grandpa."

But she held me tightly.

"Just two questions more," she pleaded and I yielded.

"Very well," I said, "if you make them brief."

She stood erect and squared her shoulders.

"Number one," she said in such crisp accents that I kept my face straight with difficulty, "Do we have to move right away?"

"Yes, as fast as possible."

She "took" her briskness and was her second question.

"Then what about the boys. They were going to have their [illegible] here with us. Will I have to give that up?"

[illegible] Daddy will be with us all the time. There's no danger."

She gave a deep sigh.

"I believe you, Mumms," she said. "I just have to. But it's going to be hard on Peter and Aunt Katherine and Grannie and Grandaddy, too. I have to go upstairs and see that Daddy stays safe here!"

"That's a sensible Faith," I said, stressing the word, "and you must help keep it. Nobody knows that young Peter is in the hotel, and Grandaddy doesn't want anybody to know where he is. You came from the other street, didn't you?"

"Yes," she said, "and straight to Uncle's own private door to the [illegible]."

"Now you can see [illegible] Peter," I said. "They are [illegible] heroes. Now, if Mary Katherine takes her old [illegible] everywhere with [illegible] young Peter is in the suite. There isn't room enough for all of us here [illegible]

U. S. Pressing For Sanctions On Red China

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., May 3—(AP)—United States demands for a world-wide embargo against Red China on all strategic war materials, including supplies for making atomic bombs, came up today in a U. N. committee on punishments for Peiping.

Britain and France are reported holding back from such a course at present.

The committee, technically named the U. N. committee on additional measures, met (at 2 p. m., E.S.T.) behind closed doors.

Ernest A. Gross, deputy U. S. delegate to the United Nations, was ready to present the American position to the members of the 12-nation committee. It was said authoritatively that he would argue that.

1. The United Nations must take action, as strong as possible, to halt the shipment of everything to Red China that can be used in making war materials and in carrying on Red China's aggression in Korea.

2. The United Nations General Assembly should call on every member, even including the Soviet Union, to clamp this embargo on all materials—a long list—of a strategic nature.

3. Red China cannot make atomic bombs but the Soviet Union, which the U. S. said had a hand in promoting the Communist aggression in North Korea, has had an atomic explosion. The embargo should cover materials used in producing atomic energy so the Soviet Union cannot obtain help along that line.

OPS To Make Check Of Restaurant Reports

A check on compliance by operators of restaurants and other eating places with the requirement that they file basic reports with OPS district offices by April 30 has been ordered by Edward P. Morgan, director of enforcement for the Office of Price Stabilization, the district OPS office in Columbus announced today.

Mr. Morgan has instructed enforcement directors in all OPS district offices to give warning to all restaurant operators who have failed to file the reports required under ceiling price regulation 11 which effects restaurants that unless reports are received within five days actions looking toward injunctions will be instituted.

Among the reports due from restaurants by April 30 were a statement as to the base period selected for computing the ratio of food costs per dollars of sales, a statement of gross sales for the base period, a statement of total food costs during the base period, and a statement of special charges, such as cover and minimum charges, made in the base period.

RCA Tries Out Color TV System

NEW YORK, May 3—(AP)—Color television reportedly has been well received on present non-color-equipped TV sets—although the transmitted pictures came through in black and white.

Without previous announcement, the Radio Corporation of America used its electronic color system for about an hour yesterday over the channel normally used by the National Broadcasting Company's WNBT. NBC is an RCA subsidiary.

RCA's color system enables its color projections to be received on present sets in black and white. An adapter is necessary to receive color.

One critic said the RCA color transmission resulted in better than normal black and white pictures.

It was reported that RCA will continue color transmissions here and probably will present network tryouts later.

Vogeler Goes To Hospital

NEW YORK, May 3—(AP)—Robert A. Vogeler entered Bethesda, Md., Naval Hospital today in an effort to recover from his 17-month solitary confinement in a Hungarian prison cell.

The 39-year-old business executive held a news conference yesterday but did not discuss his arrest, trial and imprisonment as a reputed spy.

After he leaves the hospital, Vogeler said, "I will be in a condition when I can give you a better idea of what has happened to me. It is difficult for me to think about these things now."

Vogeler, shaky and speaking with difficulty, was flanked at the news conference by his blonde, attractive wife, Lucille, and business associates of the International Telephone & Telegraph Co. Vogeler is a vice president of the I. T. & T.

House Holds Up Action On Grain for India

WASHINGTON, May 3—(AP)—House action has been postponed until next week on a $150,000,000 grain-for-India bill. The measure had been scheduled for consideration yesterday.

Rep. Richards (D-SC) acting chairman of the House foreign affairs committee, said one factor in the decision to postpone action was a statement by Indian prime minister Nehru that U. S. aid would not be acceptable if strings were tied to it.

Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) said the measure was put aside so the House could finish action on appropriation bills.

Transcontinental Dial Telephoning Inaugural Planned

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—The first transcontinental dialing by long distance calls is scheduled to begin here on the west coast before the end of this year.

The New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. said the first coast-to-coast dial call by a subscriber will originate from the Englewood, N. J., exchange. Installation of equipment will start next month.

At present, one out of three long distance calls is dialed by operators at the originating end.

The first phase of the cross-country dialing will enable 10,000 customers of the Englewood exchange area to dial directly to any of 11,000,000 telephones across the nation.

At the start of the Englewood dial trial, subscribers there will be able to dial cross-country, but persons at the other end cannot dial to Englewood.

Cities and their suburbs which will be reached by the initial dialing will be San Francisco, Boston, Philadelphia, Providence, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Milwaukee, Oakland and Sacramento. Additional offices in New York State also will be included.

Quiz Carnival Hand In Death of Girl, 8

PADUCAH, Ky., May 3—(UP)—Two Chester, Pa., officers arrived here last night to question Marion Hanford "Lucky" Starnes about the carnival grounds slaying of eight-year-old Jane Althoff.

The little girl's body was found in a truck on the Chester carnival grounds April 25.

Delaware County detective Cyrus Boulden said whether the 29-year-old carnival worker would be returned to Pennsylvania to face a murder charge hinged on the questioning.

Starnes, who has denied any first-hand knowledge of the child's death, signed extradition papers yesterday. He admitted being connected with a carnival in Chester at the time of the girl's death.

Say Beef Price Rollback Will Mean Rations

WASHINGTON, May 3—(AP)—Senator Ellender (D-La) said today the country will have meat rationing by Nov 1 unless the government abandons its beef price-rollback program.

"Black markets and rationing are coming for sure—rationing, in six months—if the price-cut orders remain in effect," Ellender declared.

He heads the Senate agriculture committee, which yesterday unanimously approved a resolution calling on the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) to rescind the new beef regulations "without delay."

Price stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle said last night in Toledo that there is "no evidence to date that would cause us to repeal the regulations even before they have become effective and given a fair trial."

Senator Hugh Butler (R-Neb) told the Senate yesterday, "We will have rationing within a few months unless the OPS orders are revised drastically and sharply."

DiSalle, in countering the attack on the order, told a newsman his agency considered all the objections which had been made.

The Senate agriculture committee said the OPS program already has resulted in producers rushing their cattle to market before they are fattened to the best weights. The committee said "such premature marketing will result in a loss of meat for consumers."

Eight High School Girls From Ohio Visit Mrs. Truman

WASHINGTON, May 3—(AP)—Eight Perrysburg, Ohio, high school juniors enjoyed the rare privilege yesterday of meeting with the first lady of the land in the presidential home.

The eight, all girls, visited Mrs. Bess Truman shortly before they entrained for home after a three-day visit to Washington.

One of the girls, Marjann Logee, told a reporter she acted on a "hunch" when she wrote several weeks ago asking that Mrs. Truman receive the group.

With hundreds of school groups visiting the capital at this time of year, Marjann said she hardly expected an affirmative reply.

However, a letter soon arrived from Mrs. Edith Helm, the first lady's social secretary, confirming an appointment for the group.

The girls met Mrs. Truman in Blair House, the temporary White House.

After the meeting, the girls used such terms as "very nice" and "gracious" to describe Mrs. Truman.

Besides Miss Logee, the group that visited Mrs. Truman composed Cherie Ballantyne, Barbara Coy, Barbara Westervelt, Jane Norby, Yvonne Hart, Pat Hoffman, Glenna Mazer and two faculty members—Miss Alice Morgan and Mrs. Evelyn Civan.

Republicans against: Baker (Montgomery), Daniels (Highland), Deddens (Hamilton), McCandless (Butler), Moorehead (Muskingum), Nutt (Cuyahoga), Pollock (Stark) and Powell (Clark).

Democrat against: Blake (Belmont).

The House approved and sent to the senate bills to:

Punish possible wartime sabotage by fining saboteurs of electrical, gas or water equipment up to $10,000 or one to 20 years in prison or both, or five to 99 years in prison if a death results.

Provide compulsory inspection of all Ohio autos at least once each year under the supervision committee of the House and Senate for consideration of technical amendments.

Acheson

He predicted their overwhelming approval by the House.

Rep. Rooney (D-NY), chairman of the appropriations subcommittee which handles State Department funds, said he fears a move to tie up department money "would carry a substantial majority."

Plenty of Support

Rep. Cox (D-Ga), who often bespeaks the views of Southern Democrats generally, said he would support any drive to force Acheson out. So did Rep. Rankin (D-Miss).

"This will cut the ground out from under him and he will have to quit or President Truman will have to fire him," Cox said. "The vote in the House will be so overwhelmingly against Acheson that he will have to get out."

Administration leaders privately expressed doubt they could stall the drive. Their main chance, as they see it now, is to delay consideration of the State Department money bill in the hope that sentiment about Acheson will change.

Mr. Truman has consistently supported Acheson against all demands for his replacement.

Hirohito, Empress Give 3 Cheers For Jap Constitution

TOKYO, May 3—(AP)—Emperor Hirohito and his empress gave three banzais today for the Japanese constitution that strips them of their imperial powers.

Banzai means "live 10,000 years!"

The royal couple yelled it three times before 12,000 Japanese celebrating the fourth anniversary of the document.

The dapper little monarch, in gray-striped trousers and morning coat, was the attraction at a Constitution Day ceremony on the plaza before his palace grounds.

His chubby wife, smiling Empress Nagako, stood at his side. She wore the rigidly prescribed court dress, which looks like an evening gown of the 1920s.

One after another, Japan's civil leaders stepped forward, bowed to the emperor and then lauded the constitution. Each turned his back on the man they once called divine and spoke directly to the 12,000 facing them.

As each finished his speech, he bowed again to Hirohito. The emperor nodded in reply.

At the close of the ceremony, a Tokyo assemblyman led the crowd in three ear-splitting banzais for the constitution.

Hirohito and his wife shouted banzai and raised their hands three times in the traditional salute.

Tells of Baseball Experiences

Ex-Umpire "Red" Jones Talks To Foremen's Club

Nicholas (Red) Jones of Detroit, recently retired American League umpire who is now engaged in public relations and sales work for the Pfeiffer Sales Co. of Detroit and Flint, Mich., was a guest speaker before 50 members of the Marion Foremen's Club Tuesday evening featuring their "Sports Night" program at Columbian Hall.

The baseball arbiter took advantage of the warm summer evening to deliver a neat and fast one with the verbal baseballs and strikes he took in when he ruled the Major League foremen and left them standing at the plate as a baseball story ended.

Jones packed a lot of well known baseball players and umpires and has known quite a few experiences.

He spoke his piece on the subject of ball players who "call the ceiling" and rage at an umpire who "takes 'em as he sees 'em" and not always to their liking. Jones said he figured that players should concentrate on what they are doing when they are batting, when they are playing in the field or when they are umpiring for playing tension.

Tough Profession

He cited the case of many of cases when players of professional baseball apologized when told of the language they had used in berating an umpire and which they did not recall. "But it's a tough profession," said the former American League official.

Red" Jones, a native of Charlotte, N. C., worked as an umpire in the South Atlantic and Southern Leagues before he joined the American League in 1941. He left in 1949 to engage in private business. He recalled some of his baseball experiences in connection with Joe McCarthy, Billy Southworth, Yogi Berra, Dick Bartell, George Kell and others. He praised Casey Stengel as "a fine man" and declared that Stengel apparently has an uncanny baseball sense in the strategy he plans to win games.

Mr. Jones was accompanied to Marion by Adam H. Brandt of Mansfield owner of the Brandt Distributing Co.

Help Cancer Drive

The Marion Foremen's Club voted a donation of $25 to aid the Marion County Cancer drive by listening to a brief talk about the Marion County Cancer drive by H. H. Douthitt, program chairman of the Marion Foremen's Club and County chairman of the Marion County Cancer Crusade.

W. T. Bland, chairman of the club's nominating committee announced the list of names selected as nominees for Marion Foremen's Club Board of Control offices, to be elected at the meeting in June. All Marion industries affiliated with the Marion Foremen's Club are represented among the nominations.

Board of control members will attend an important meeting in the Chamber of Commerce club rooms at 7:30 p. m., May 9, when Ray F. Montsalvatge, area manager, from Dayton will speak.

Reads Invitation

Francis T. Hartman, club president, read an invitation from the Chicago club for Marion club members to attend "the most important convention in the history of the National Association of Foremen" at Chicago, Sept. 26-28.

Eric Williams of Harding High School reported that the class in human relations at Harding recently ended its series of meetings with increased interest which probably will result in the meetings being resumed next fall.

Guests at the meeting were Bernard Wiley and Paul Thomas of the McMillen Feed Mills Co.

6 POLICE OUSTED. Rudolph Sheeler, now 35, was freed of a murder charge at Philadelphia after spending 12 years in prison and immediately six policemen were suspended. The police, among them an assistant superintendent, were accused of using methods in which Sheeler was "beaten, threatened, intimidated and terrorized" into signing a murder confession.

20TH YEAR MARKED

BUCYRUS — A formal dinner marked the 20th anniversary celebration of the local chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority. The dinner was held Monday at Greenlawn restaurant near Bucyrus. Newly-elected officers were installed by Miss Helen Stull, the retiring president, who received a jeweled past president's pin.

Lippmann

We must not deceive ourselves about the genuineness of this condition of affairs, and shrug it off by ascribing it to leftism, to fellow travelerism, to defeatism and to neutralism. The recent French governments have been as cooperative as it is possible for any French government to be. Yet they have had to cut down on the facilities they intended to open up to us.

AT THAT, ONE can make a very good surmise about what is really happening among the French people by looking at the position now taken by Gen. de Gaulle in his bid for power. His slogan is "security against the adversary (Russia), independence with regard to the allies (America)." And then to make it sure that no Frenchman misunderstands him, Gen. de Gaulle has demanded "an alliance and not a subordination," and he has denounced "the encroachments (our bases and facilities in France and in North Africa) now incurred through the weakness of our regime."

Thus Gen. de Gaulle who leads the French Nationalist and fiercely anti-Communist movement is making it plain as he runs for office that he does not regard the Atlantic treaty in its present form as finally a settled matter.

Our alliances in Europe are not yet consolidated, and what is going on here these days is subjecting them to a fearful strain. Perhaps the agitation would become subdued, perhaps the discussion would become more temperate, if more people understood that the crackup of the alliance would be tantamount, or very nearly so, to the neutralization of our strategic air power as a global force. Were the European bases to be closed to us, our air power would be reduced to a regional instrument incapable of being deterrent or decisive.

The Japanese proclaimed the puppet state of Manchkuo in 1932.

Louis Fails In Bid To Kayo Cuban

By HARRY STAPLER

DETROIT, May 3 (AP)—If Joe Louis can't kayo the lesser fighters with his best punches what'll happen when he tackles someone like Lee Savold?

Joe said today he was satisfied with his [illegible] punch. Maybe it is but many of the 7,004 fans at Olympia Stadium last night weren't.

Two long years after the heavyweight champion of Cuba in the ring made Joe a great heavyweight champion for 12 years.

But Joe couldn't finish off the lanky Cuban in the 10-round fight although he floored him once. Joe won a unanimous decision. And now it's on to Lee Savold, British and European heavyweight champion.

International Boxing Club promoters hadn't settled on the June date or place for the fight.

If Joe can beat Savold, who figures to be tougher than Agramonte, the Brown Bomber hoped to tangle with world heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles again.

In the second round Louis — [illegible] but still minus the [illegible] punching right that ruled the heavyweight world till last September — floored Agramonte. It was the first time in five comeback fights Joe smacked a fighter to the canvas.

In the ninth round he battered the dazed Agramonte, who weighed only 188½ to Louis' 208½. But again he couldn't kayo Omelio, who's not a big name in the boxing world.

Omelio was down for a nine count when Louis decked him in the second.

Agramonte lasted 10 rounds against Joe Louis in February, but this time Louis trained harder and experimented with a tip-toe dance in an effort to regain some punching speed.

KEOUGH VS. VIRGO

CLEVELAND, May 3—(AP)—Cleveland Middleweight Jackie Keough will meet Rose Virgo of Rochester, N. Y., in a 10-round bout at Central Armory here May 22. Keough has lost nine and drawn one of 24 fights, while Virgo has lost only once in 24 ring starts.

Charges Bean-Ball Tactics

Robinson In Middle Of Giants-Dodgers Feud

NEW YORK, May 3—(AP)—The bean-ball feud between the neighborly Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants was kept simmering today as a league president, a club head, players and officials got into the act.

Taking notice of the goings-on at Ebbet's Field during the past weekend that came to a head when Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson and New York's Sal Maglie nearly came to blows, President Ford Frick of the National League placed the blame on Robinson.

Frick ordered the Brooklyn ball club to "handle" its fiery second baseman or "I will."

Walter O'Malley, president of the Dodgers, took exception to Frick's remarks, commended Robinson's fighting spirit and hustling tactics and declared he would give his player full support.

Dodger Vice President Buzzy Bavasi accused the Giants of igniting the feud and suggested stricter measures by the umpires to guard against bean-ball tactics.

"Bush League"

Manager Leo Durocher of the Giants charged Robinson with pulling a "bush league trick" for luring Maglie down the first base line with a well placed bunt and then deliberately running into the pitcher. Robinson had accused Maglie of throwing at him a moment before.

"Maglie, denying he threw at Robinson, said "what got into him, anyway? Those pitches weren't even close."

And what does Robinson say?

"If I'm bush as Durocher says, he made me that way. He taught it to me.

"I charged into Maglie because he was throwing at me. It's got to stop before somebody gets hurt. I don't want any incidents but I've made up my mind I've got to protect myself. I set out to create a disturbance to make Ford Frick step in and stop this thing.

"This bean ball throwing has got to stop. I hope what I did helps stop it. I don't want to have to do it again but if I have to I will."

Adcock Stars For Redlegs

BROOKLYN, May 3—(AP)—If Joe Adcock keeps on at his present pace, Cincinnati may have its own "Joltin' Joe" by the time the Reds get back home on May 11.

He isn't a "Joltin' Joe" DiMaggio, of course, but Adcock has become the No. 1 hitting man for Cincinnati—a job that was conceded to Ted Kluszewski before the season ever started.

As of now, Kluszewski is hitting only .267. Way up there at .339 is Adcock. Kluszewski leads in runs batted in with 11 but Adcock has eight and he also has three doubles and three home runs.

Of course all of those figures can't be counted on too heavily since the season barely is started but they mean a bit more in view of Adcock's blazing finish last season.

The 23 year-old Adcock came to the Reds last year as a first baseman. Naturally, he couldn't dislodge Kluszewski from the job but when big Ted was hurt Joe did such an excellent job that he was shifted to the outfield when Kluszewski came back.

He's been in that left field spot ever since.

Through the last seven weeks of the 1950 season he hit .330.

Bucyrus Lefty Hurls No-Hitter

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, May 3—Lefty Dan Bumstead, a sophomore, tossed a no hitter to lead Bucyrus High's Redmen baseball team to a 5 to 0 win over neighboring Mt. Zion in a game played Tuesday on the Zion diamond, southwest of here.

Bumstead, who also starred on the Redmen cage team the past season, struck out 13 batters and issued one walk.

Last week, he pitched Bucyrus to a 5 to 4 win over Willard. In that contest he whiffed 14.

Home Run By Boudreau Not Enough to Win

CLEVELAND, May 3—(AP)—The league-leading Cleveland Indians looked stronger than ever today after their sweep of two games from the Boston Red Sox.

Yesterday's 4-3 triumph over the team the pre season experts rated as leading contender for the pennant saw Pitcher Lou Brissie make a successful debut and rookie Harry Simpson enjoy a perfect day at bat.

Brissie, a big southpaw obtained from the Philadelphia Athletics in Monday's trade, hurled four innings of relief for Bob Lemon and held the Red Sox sluggers to two hits.

Lemon blanked Boston on three hits for five frames, but had to quit because he pulled a muscle in his left side when he struck out in the second inning. The injury won't keep him out much over a week.

Strikes

The first three pitches Brissie threw for Cleveland were strikes that retired Billy Goodman. Pinch-hitter Walt Dropo hit a pop double in the seventh, but was stranded on second. The trouble came in the eighth when the first two men walked and Lou Boudreau belted a homer into the lower left field stands to score behind them.

That three-run blow by the former Cleveland manager—his third roundtripper of the season—still left the Indians a run ahead. Brissie guarded it by getting the next and last four Boston batters on a strikeout, a pair of foul flies, and an infield grounder.

The Tribe's new southpaw made a big contribution at bat, too. He came up in the sixth for the first time with the bases full and poked a low-bounding single just inside third base to score two-runners—Larry Doby and Ray Boone, who had singled.

Pittsburgh's surprising Pirates made it two in a row over Brooklyn when Murry Dickson set the Doogers down with five hits to whip them, 4-3. The little right-hander, who now has a 3-0 record, couldn't beat the Dodgers all last season. Don Newcombe dropped his first decision.

Pinch Double

Ted Beard's pinch double in the eighth inning drove in what proved to be the winning run. Pete Castiglione was the big man in Pittsburgh's 10-hit attack with a homer, double and single. The Pirates vaulted into third place, past the Dodgers and Philadelphia.

A two-bagger by Connie Ryan and a single by Grady Hatton featured a two-run ninth inning uprising that gave the Cincinnati Reds a 6-4 triumph over the Phils in Philadelphia. Ewell Blackwell scored his third win.

A couple of rookies collaborated to lead the Giants to an 8-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs at the Polo Grounds. George Spencer pitched a neat six-hitter and Catcher Ray Noble singled in two runs to open the gates for a six-run seventh inning. Johnny Schmitz was the loser.

Third Victory

Nat Pitcher Sandy Consuegra limited the Browns to five hits for his third victory without a defeat.

Scoring five unearned runs on a couple of Chicago errors, the injury-ridden New York Yankees came from behind to defeat the White Sox, 6-4, for a sweep of a two-games series.

A miscue by Orestes Minoso paved the way for the two winning runs in the ninth. Joe Collins' triple drove in one and Jackie Jensen's fly brought in the other.

Joe Ostrowski pitched scoreless ball through the last five innings for his first win.

Singles by pinch hitter Pat Mullin and Johnny Groth accounted for a pair of runs in the bottom half of the 10th to give Detroit a 5-4 victory over the Athletics. Rookie Ray Herbert picked up his second win in relief.

Marsox Take On Giants in Twinbill

The Marsox will tangle with Springfield in a twinbill tonight at Springfield after last night's game was rained out.

Manager Elmer Yoter probably will send Southpaw Dick Tarys and righthander Bob Penny to the mound for the locals. Both hurlers will be seeking their second win of the season.

Last night's tilt was rained out after the pre-game ceremonies. The rains came during the flag raising and within a few minutes the diamond was soaked by the downpour. It was to have been Springfield's home opener.

Prior to leaving Marion yesterday, Skipper Yoter received a telephone call from Joe Cronin, former manager of the parent Boston Red Sox, now general manager. Cronin promised Yoter he would visit Marion during the season to see the team in action. He had planned to come to Marion during Boston's stand at Cleveland if his schedule had permitted.

Gorgeous Gussy Willing To Trade Shorts for Apron

HOLLYWOOD, May 3—(AP)—Gertrude "Gorgeous Gussy" Moran, the tennis player, is looking for a husband.

"I once said I'd never give up tennis for a man," she confided to a newsman yesterday, "but I'm beginning to change. I'm getting along. I'm 27 now. If I found the right man, preferably a businessman, I would give up tennis, stay home and raise a family."

What about her romance with Pat De Cicco, former husband of Gloria Vanderbilt?, "Oh, Pat and I passed the romance time quite a while ago," she explained. "We're still good friends."

Pirates Win County Title

Special to The Star

CARDINGTON, May 3 — The Cardington Pirates captured their eighth straight Morrow County high school baseball title here yesterday by trouncing Iberia, 13-4.

Bill Henthorne, Pirate hurler, limited the visiting Presidents to four safeties and posted 12 strikeouts in the seven-inning affair. Cardington shelled Dareld Rhinehart, starting pitcher for Iberia from the mound in the fourth frame with a five-run uprising. Bud Poulton finished for the losers.

Iberia's hope were dimmed in the second inning when Carl Brady, right fielder, was forced to the sidelines after pulling a muscle while sliding into second base. Don Kelly paced the Pirate attack with three hits in three times at bat, including a long triple.

The Pirates will meet University High School of Columbus in the first Class B tournament game at Columbus Monday. The tilt will be played on the No. 4 diamond at Ohio State University at 4 p.m. wasCup meson ...fra rayear497 ...

New Deadline For Softball

Church Loop Will Open Season Monday

A new deadline for entry blanks and fees was set last night at a meeting of the Marion Softball Commission and team managers. Blanks and fees must be in the hands of the commission secretary by Saturday.

The season will be opened here Monday night by the Church League with a four-game card. Commercial Loop action will be opened Tuesday night, Industrial No. 2 Wednesday and Industrial No. 1 on Thursday.

Three of Monday night's games will be played at Garfield with one set for McKinley. Epworth will meet Wesley in the first game at Garfield at 6:15. Greenwood and Lee Street Presbyterian will meet at 7:30 and St. Mary No. 1 and No. 2 will battle at 8:45. Church of the Brethren and Trinity Baptist meet at McKinley Park.

At last night's meeting, Wilson's Recreation was admitted to the Commercial League to replace the now defunct Silver Inn squad. Waldo was also accepted as a new member of the loop to replace the Knights of Columbus.

The commission warned all teams that individual player fees must be paid before the first game of the season. This fee is to be used to purchase a new public address system at Garfield Park.

The schedule for the opening week's play will be announced later this week, a commission spokesman said today.

Harding Relays Here Under Lights Tomorrow Night

By JOHN SHORT

The second annual Harding Night Relays will be run tomorrow night at Harding Stadium. Five schools, Findlay, Bexley, Ashland, Galion and Harding, were entered this week. Others may enter participants before the deadline.

A 550 Midtown Chevrolet rotating trophy will be presented the winning school by Walter Grumblatt of the Midtown firm. A permanent trophy also will go to the winner. Medals will be presented the top two individual competitors in the meet with ribbons going to the third, fourth and fifth place finishers. First place finisers in the 880-yard and mile relay events also will receive medals

Special Event

A special event on the meet card calls for a Marion County 880-yard relay race. All schools from the county system may enter and the winning team will be awarded a trophy. An 880-yard relay also will be run for the city's three junior high schools

At least four schools from the county system will run in the added attraction. Teams already entered are Claridon, Pleasant, Moral and Caledonia

Dan Day, Harding speedster, probably will hook up in what is expected to be two of the closest races in the meet. He will be running against Tom Montague of Bexley High School in the 100-yard dash and Bill Garnes of Findlay in the 440. Both Day and Montague have turned in 10.1's in the 100 while Garnes and Day are co-holders of the track record for the 440, each with a 53.5.

Day and Garnes ran in a photo-finish earlier this week in a triangular meet at Fremont. Both were clocked in a flat 53 seconds and judges awarded the decision to Garnes after a 10-minute study of the finish.

The 880 relay is expected to narrow down to Bexley and Harding. The visitors and the locals have been clocked in 1.37 while the Prexies and Findlay mile relayers have been covering the course in smaller times. Both squads usually are clocked around 3.45

The high jump should be a battle between Garnes (6-1), and Steve Hauser of Findlay (5-10) and Galion's Bill Shindledecker (5-10). The shotput likely will be a three-way battle between big Paul Ludwig of Harding, Jim Peterson of Findlay and Garnes. Peterson owns a heave of 46-9 while Ludwig's best effort was 46-6. Garnes' previous best was an even 45 feet.

Pole Vault

Dave Coldwell of Findlay and the Prexies' own Dick Bender will highlight the pole vault. Coldwell has cleared the bar at 11 feet while Bender has reached 10.8. Tom Montague of Bexley will be the favored broad jump artist. He has posted a leap of 22-3.

Harding recently won the Fremont Relays title over such track crews as Fremont, Findlay and Sandusky. It was the second straight title for the Prexies.

ROOKIE SIMPSON MAKES HIS MARK. Cleveland Indians' rookie Harry Simpson (right), is congratulated by Tribe manager Al Lopez in Cleveland on his sensational playing, which aided the Indians to a 4-3 win over the Boston Red Sox, led by ex-Indian Lou Boudreau. It was the second major league game for Simpson, who played first base flawlessly in place of the injured Luke Easter. He paced the Tribe with three singles and a double in four times at bat, bringing his mark to six hits out of seven in the two games.

Predicts Greatest Season Yet for Harness Racing

COLUMBUS, O., May 3—(AP)—The United States today headed into its greatest harness racing season.

Don R. Millar, executive vice president of the United States Trotting Association, predicted new records in the number of competing horses and in total purses

Millar based his prediction on the fact that racing certificates for horses are running about 12 percent ahead of 1950

Through May 1 a year ago, 7,446 applications had been processed by the U. S. T. A., but this year, through the corresponding date, the association handled 8,456 applications—an increase of 1,010

From a low of 3,773 in 1943, the number of harness horses getting into actual races has increased annually, and the purse distribution has jumped, too.

A total of 10,281 horses, a new all-time high, got to the races in 1950. As recently as 1946, the first post-war year, the number had risen only to 7,757, a record at the time.

The 3,773 horses of 1943 split up $1,313,028, while the 10,281 last year divided $11,527,711. Millar predicted the 1951 distribution would soar above the $12,000,000 mark

"Every indication points to more and better horses taking part in racing programs all over the country," Millar said. "The race tracks have received a tremendous entry for their feature races, and the overwhelming demand for stable space along with the excellent times being posted in early meetings indicates greater selectivity and superior quality everywhere."

Edison Cops Track Meet

Harding Bows From Tourney

Darkness, Rain Shorten Game

Harding's baseball team was bumped from the Central District Class A baseball tourney, 3-2, yesterday afternoon by Washington C. H. in a five-inning game.

Trailing 3-2 at the start of the sixth frame, the Prexies moved Jim Heisel to third base with the tying run and Tom Ellison had worked the count to three balls when the umpires went into a conference to decide whether to call the game because of darkness. While they were conferring, rain began falling and the game was ended.

The Prexies took a one-run lead in the top of the first inning but the winners knotted the count with their first tally in the bottom of the frame. Washington C. H. added two runs in the third and Harding came back with one in the fourth.

Harris Joins Tribe Bullpen

CLEVELAND, May 3—(UP)—The Cleveland Indians today added right-hander Charley Harris to their bullpen corps—the second addition in a week.

The Indians purchased Harris from the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday as an aftermath to the seven-man deal in which they acquired lefty Lou Brissie. Manager Al Lopez said Harris would be assigned to the bullpen immediately.

Out of Job, Man Shoots His 8 Children, Self

LENOIR, N. C., May 3—(AP)—An unemployed sawmill worker shot his eight children to death, then ended his life with a shotgun blast last night.

The bodies of Ralph Gragg, 34, and the children, ranging in age from three to 15 years, were discovered in their blazing home 10 miles north of Lenoir.

"The man killed the children and then shot himself to death," said coroner Marshall Kincaid. He said no inquest would be held.

Sheriff George D. Greer said Mrs. Gragg had been living in another part of the county for the last month with a brother.

The bodies of the children lay two in a bed in the six-room frame dwelling in the Collettsville community.

The days of the week are all named after gods in ancient mythology.

Forest Fires Hit New England Area

BOSTON, May 3—(AP)—At least a dozen farm homes were destroyed and thousands of acres of wood and farmland were ravaged today by nearly 100 separate forest fires that raged in New England, New York State and New Jersey.

Biggest of the fires was in Rhode Island where flames burned over about 10 square miles in the vicinity of West Greenwich, Exeter and Hopkinton.

Three Midwest States Still in Flood Danger

By The Associated Press

Skies cleared today over Midwest flood areas but serious overflows still threatened along the Mississippi River in Iowa, Illinois and Missouri.

Light rain fell last night in parts of Iowa and northern Missouri but no further downpours were in prospect today.

Engineers watched for breaks in levees along the Iowa-Illinois-Missouri stretch of the Mississippi. The big stream receded slightly at Muscatine, Ia., one of the critical areas. A levee break below Alexandria, Mo., yesterday caused the flooding of about 2,500 acres of farm land.

Blues Close In On A.A. Leaders

By The Associated Press

A rash of home runs enlivened American Association action last night as Kansas City drew within ½ game of league leading Milwaukee.

Bob Cory, Kite Thomas and Cliff Courtney exploded homers for the Blues in an 11-2 trouncing of Indianapolis behind the six-hit chore of Young Dick Carr. Nanny Fernandez slammed a pair for the Tribe.

Louisville checked a ninth inning rally to down Milwaukee 9-7. The Colonels scored six runs in the sixth for a 9-4 margin which was sliced to 9-6 by Jim Basso's two-run circuit blow in the eighth.

The Colonel's Taft Wright homered as did Thorpe and Howie Moss for Milwaukee.

Third-place Toledo, 1½ games out of the lead, made it five straight over St. Paul for the season with an 8-6 decision. Although outhit, the Mud Hens packed their punch into five runs in the fifth and a clinching pair in the ninth. Jim Pendleton belted two homers to pace the 12-hit losers' assault.

Columbus blasted seven runs in the seventh and eighth innings to down Minneapolis 9-5. "Mo" Mozzali provided the big blow in the four-run eighth with a three-run base-clearer.

BIG PLANS FOR DELAWARE

DELAWARE, O., May 3—(AP)—One hundred and twenty-four Ohio-owned two-year-olds have been entered in two races for them at the Delaware County Grand Circuit harness meeting Sept. 20. Each race will be worth $2,000. Purses estimated to total $65,000 are being posted for the Little Brown Jug three-year-old pace, highlight of the Delaware meeting.

One of the oldest Biblical manuscripts in existence is the Book of Isaiah.

VA Office Helps Provide Care For Sick Veterans

Veterans of all wars interested in hospitalization, domiciliary care, out - patient medical and dental treatment may be assisted by the local Veterans Administration here, the office announced today War veterans, if discharged or separated under conditions other than dishonorable, are entitled to Veterans Administration hospital treatment under the following priority system: emergency cases, those suffering from injuries or diseases incurred or aggravated in line of duty during service; and those who are unable to pay hospital charges for treatment of nonservice-connected disabilities or illnesses These veterans, if not in the emergency category, must wait until a bed becomes available.

Domiciliary care is designed to provide a "home" for those veterans who have a chronic condition which incapacitates them from earning a living and who require some medical attention. Requirements for admission for domiciliary care are essentially the same as for hospital treatment.

Out-patient medical treatment, more generally known as "home-town treatment" is available for veterans with service-connected disabilities Each veteran's eligibility must be determined by the VA before treatment of this type can be authorized.

Out-patient dental treatment may, upon administration approval, be furnished by private dentists at government expense Here again, the condition must be determined by the administration to have been incurred in or made worse by, the wartime service of the veteran before treatment can be authorized

The Marion VA office is located at 196 South Main street.

4-H Club Advisors Discuss Project Grading

Ten mothers and advisors of 4-H Club girls met Tuesday with Edna Callahan, clothing specialist of Ohio State University, and Lois Simonds, Marion County Home Demonstration Agent, to discuss grading of 4-H Club projects They met from 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Ohio Edison Terminal Building

The group decided that the clothing projects are judged to help each girl know what she has done well and what she needs to improve the next time, to help the girl to maintain higher standards of work, and to help the girl evaluate herself and her work. Miss Callahan pointed out that there are four large factors considered in judging—construction, condition appearance and individual posture and grooming—but these are not weighed equally.

If mothers and advisors take a keen interest in helping the 4-H Club members understand the purposes of grading projects, perhaps Marion County girls will establish high standards of work and will therefore have better and longer lasting garments

Pillafi, a Grecian Dish, Is Meatless Wonder

NEAR EASTERN cookery contributes this recipe for a different and delicious meal. A Grecian dish, Pillafi (rice with mushrooms) is a delightful one for buffet suppers or simple family meals.

It's a problem-solver, to, when it comes to planning meatless menus. Note to housewives tempted to play hookey from the kitchen: you'll have more time to relax and entertain because this meal takes so little cooking time.

PILLAFI

- 1 lb. mushrooms
- 1 medium sized onion, chopped
- 1 green pepper, chopped
- few sprigs parsley, chopped
- 1 cup canned tomatoes
- 1 T tomato paste
- ¼ cup oil
- 1 T butter
- Salt and pepper
- 1 Cup rice (uncooked)
- 1 cup water

Cut the mushrooms into small pieces with a silver knife. Add the onion, green pepper, parsley, tomatoes, tomato paste, oil, butter, salt and pepper. Place on low heat; in about 10 minutes add the rice and the water. Cook 20 minutes in all. Add hot water, a little at a time, as needed, if the mixture gets too dry; but when the rice is tender, the liquid should all be absorbed. Yields 4 to 6 servings.

Note: Watch carefully to keep from burning. If a lid is put on the skillet during part of the cooking time, the rice cooks more quickly and is in less danger of sticking.

Meeker Honors Athletes With Banquet, Letters

Varsity high school and junior basketball players at Meeker were honored recently at an athletic banquet sponsored by the Meeker P.-T.A. The banquet was held in the new school auditorium and was open to all residents of the school district.

Dr. Walter D. McCloskey, Marion County veterinarian, was guest speaker. He gave a humorous talk on his experiences in the world of sports. The Meeker cheerleading squad opened the program with a school yell and was followed by a trio composed of June Fox, Louella Clark and Edith McKelvy. They were accompanied by Claren Sommers, music director at the school.

Letter awards were presented by Coach Ivan Siefker. The school's colors, orange and black, were used in decorating the auditorium. Place cards resembled bankboards and hoops.

Correct Cross-Eye in Youth

The cross-eyed child fails to see properly and he may be sensitive about his appearance. The two things taken together may change his entire personality to such an extent that, even if the defect is later corrected, he will still suffer a lifelong handicap. This is just one among many good reasons why parents should [illegible] cross-eye.

[illegible] Fortunately, by the time the youngster is eight years old the eyes have gained a normal state. If the eyes do not become straight [illegible] for the child [illegible].

[illegible] objects with both eyes and fuse them into one image. Hence, cross-eye must be corrected before the child is five years of age, if the vision of both eyes is to be retained. The cross-eyed child does not see double. He only sees with one eye the good one. Since the child does not use the bad eye, the vision in it is gradually lost.

The child who has cross-eye should be taken to an eye specialist so that correct treatment can be instituted.

Mothers should be on the lookout for cross-eye when the baby is about ten or eleven months old.

If the child's eyes appear to be crossed, the doctor may treat the condition by putting drops in the good eye to dilate it. It may reduce the cross-eye completely. If this is the case the wearing of properly fitted glasses is all that is necessary. However, if the farsightedness is only a contributing cause of the cross-eye, the wearing of glasses will straighten the eyes only partially or temporarily, and other methods of treatment will be needed for a complete correction.

By the time a child is five years of age he has learned to look at ness. The farsighted child usually can see satisfactorily, but to do so requires continuous effort of the eyes to secure normal vision. This process of constantly focussing causes a certain muscle in the eye known as the ciliary to become very powerful, so that there is a tendency for the eyes to turn in more than usual.

Relaxation of the ciliary muscle can be brought about by putting atropine in the eyes. While this causes the pupil of the eye to dilate, it may reduce the cross-eye completely. If this is the case the wearing of properly fitted glasses is all that is necessary. However, if the farsightedness is only a contributing cause of the cross-eye, the wearing of glasses will straighten the eyes only partially or temporarily, and other methods of treatment will be needed for a complete correction.

Answer: Malposition of the womb may interfere with pregnancy in some cases but not in all.

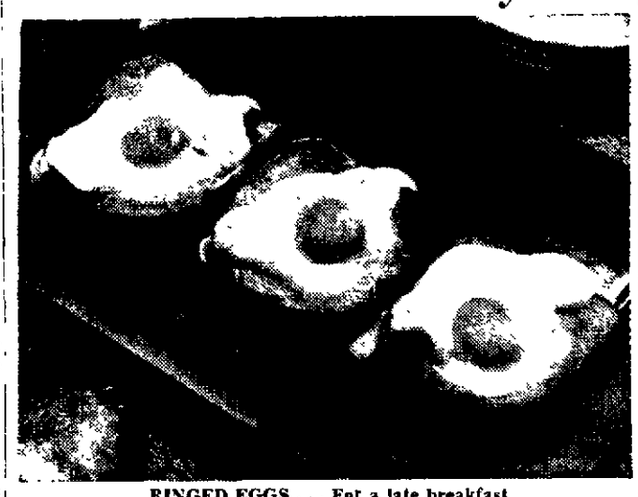
Starter for Mother's Day



RINGED EGGS . . . For a late breakfast

FRENCH OMELET . . . Mother's Day Breakfast.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Start Mother's Day off right for her when she gets up. If she's an early riser you might serve her fruit juice, hot muffins or corn sticks (using a packaged mix), marmalade, and as the piece de resistance—a delectable French omelet. If breakfast is to be late in the morning Ringed Eggs with Cheese Sauce are fun to prepare and delicious to eat. Here are the recipes:

FRENCH OMELET

Ingredients: 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon cold water, ¼ teaspoon salt (scant), dash of pepper, ½ tablespoon butter or margarine.

Method: Blend eggs, water, salt, and pepper thoroughly with a fork; avoid foaminess. Meanwhile, heat butter in skillet quite hot — until a drop of water dropped in the pan sizzles. Pour in egg mixture—it should set immediately at the edges. Start stirring with a fork briskly to heat and cook the mixture evenly. At the same time, shake the pan to keep omelet from sticking and to speed the cooking. Draw the cooked portions toward the center allowing the uncooked to fill the spaces. Tilt the skillet if necessary to hasten the flow of the uncooked. Keep the mixture as level as possible at all times. When the eggs are set and the top is still moist, increase the heat to brown the bottom—this takes a second or two. Shake again to loosen the omelet and loosen edges if necessary. Fold in half or roll. Makes 1 serving.

RINGED EGGS WITH CHEESE SAUCE

Ingredients: 3 slices bread, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine (about), 3 eggs, salt, pepper, 1⅓ to ½ cup milk, 1/3 pound process cheese or cheese food (1½ cups grated).

Method: Remove center from bread slices with biscuit cutter. Heat half the butter or margarine in skillet, drop in the bread and brown and crisp on one side. Turn bread and slip eggs into "holes." If necessary, add more butter. Cook to desired egg doneness. Season. Meanwhile melt cheese over hot water. Add milk gradually, stirring until smooth. Pour cheese sauce over eggs. Serve promptly. Makes 3 servings.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

The first third of the year passed quietly . . . one ain soldier started to fight, but there's still some doubt whether it was a general or a former captain.

So we learn the boys were prepared to win the fight they were in before opening additional fronts for the neighbors.

Try as I might I can't find anywhere on my last election ballots anything about us defending everybody against everybody else.

Complain About Armies

BONN — (AP) — Allied mock battlefields in West Germany cover an area over half the size of the Duchy of Luxembourg, German officials reported. U. S. and British troops alone use 529 square miles for training grounds. The French also have marked off large military areas.

Allied commanders are now studying a memorandum proposing a German advisory board to prevent excessive damage to agriculture and forestry. The memorandum expressed fear that future transfer of Allied reinforcements to Germany would lead to abandonment of whole villages to provide better firing ranges for artillery.
